

ARGUMENTS IN BOLTON TRIAL AT MT. VERNON

Prosecutor Phil B. Smythe Opened for the State After Judge Wickham Opened Court at 9 a. m.

PRESENTED IMPASSIONED PLEA TO KNOX CO. JURY

Judge Wright Followed for the Defense Making Eloquent Appeal for Prisoner and Denounced in Scathing Terms the Testimony of Joe Bush and Joshua Hull—Large Crowd Present.

Mt. Vernon, April 24.—The biggest crowd that has yet attended the Bolton murder trial, filled this pretty court room when the prosecuting attorney, Phil B. Smythe, opened the case for the State of Ohio. Mr. Smythe was at his best. His voice rang clear and strong as he arraigned the defendant as being the "aider, abettor, and procurer" of the murder of Carl Etherington.

The defendant was brought into the court room by Deputy Sheriff John Woolson. Every eye was turned toward him but his face never changed expression, as he took his seat between Attorneys J. R. Fitzgibbon and Frank V. Owen. He followed the line of Prosecutor Smythe's argument closely, and at times suggested points which he probably wanted used when the time came for the attorneys to speak for him.

Fitzgibbon, Owen and Wright took copious notes, and frequently consulted transcripts of testimony furnished by Miss Huelie Jones, the official court stenographer.

Judge Wickham opened court at 9 o'clock promptly and was requested to give special charges to the jury after the argument by the attorneys for the defense.

PROSECUTOR SMYTHE'S ARGUMENT.

Gentlemen of the Jury: You have listened to the story of a murder—a murder in its conception more lawless—in its execution more heartless, cruel and wanton—than any which has ever before disgraced the civilization of our state.

The gruesome and sickening details of July 8 were not given you for the purpose of harrowing up your feelings, or to stir your hearts to rebellion against this crime, and those who committed it; but to show you wherein the evidence of the defendant's acts on that day fitted in and made a part of the day's transactions.

In stating this case I said to you that the state did not intend to prove that the defendant helped in the assault on the jail; or that he personally assisted in the actual hanging of Etherington; and now at the close of the evidence the state makes no such claim.

We stated in the beginning that this defendant was guilty as an aider, abettor and procurer—and we expect to convict him as the promoter of the manager, the instigator of this most vicious and lawless riot and murder.

The defendant occupied the better part of a day in proving that at the time the jail was being attacked he was at his place of business—that while Etherington was being hanged he was elsewhere. Of course he was—we never claimed otherwise; but the mere fact that this defendant although so near that scene of tumult, excitement and riot, had the curiosity to walk a half block to see what was going on at the jail, naturally raises the presumption that he knew what was going on, and what would be done, and how it would be done, and that he was so conspicuously showing himself in front of his place for the purpose of making a defense. The state views the testimony of Mr. Hale in the same light. This was the only real evidence the defendant offered in the trial of this case. You remember that Hale told of a conversation with the defendant while the assault on the jail was in progress, in which the defendant expressed his dissatisfaction at what was going on at the jail. Does this seem reasonable or natural? In the light of the other facts in the case—or isn't it more reasonable, more natural that this was also a part of a well laid plan to cover his tracks and make a defense—if a defense should be necessary? When you consider Hale's testimony, consider also that at noon that day Bolton had an encounter with a band of these detectives, in which he had been struck on the head with a black jack; that he had followed and pursued the detectives through the streets. Is it reasonable that he was and shouts for his life. He hears the attack on the jail. He hears the doors crash in. He hears his executioners drawing nearer, shouting out their intentions to kill him. Helpless—trapped in his cell, like a rat in a trap—he sees the mob, blood-crazy and inhuman, invade the cell corridors. He is grabbed and dragged out, kicked and beaten, until he screams out in his agony, like an animal in distress, as described by one witness; pulled and pushed to his gibbet and there hung until he died, while his self-appointed executioners stood about and cheered—glared over their terrible work.

Oh! the shame of it, and the pathos of it! You remember the testimony of Frank Good—that when the bleeding, bruised and battered victim reached the pole, how he reached out and grabbed Good by the arm and said: "For God's sake, make them stop beating me, so that my body may be sent home to my mother." There, in the hour of his extremity, with the icy hand of death already clutching at his throat—his last thought was of his Kentucky home and his mother.

The storm brewed in Bolton's place; the crowd which formed the nucleus of the mob gathered and planned in his place, under his eye and direction. They were directed to jail from his place, and immediately went about the work of murdering Etherington.

Hence the state's claim that we have proven that he (Bolton) aided, abetted and procured the murder of Etherington.

Now, I want you to go with me through the testimony so that we may see whether I am justified in the conclusion I have drawn.

(Prosecutor Smythe quoted from the testimony of Joshua Hull, Dave Criss, E. C. Criss, Joe Bush, Cliff Frye and others, and concluded as follows:

And now, gentlemen, after it is all over—after the arrests are made and those charged with the crime are in jail, the defendant himself furnished the strongest item of proof the state has, the letter he sent to Bush.

Why was he anxious that Bush should "stand pat"? Why assure him that his stand would be taken care of?

Why furnish Bush with booze? Why?

It is for you to answer why.

Now I am through. These proceedings, rapidly drawing to a close, are to the end that justice may be done—that the law may be vindicated.

The court will tell you that if a man unlawfully sets in motion a dangerous force, and that results in the death of a human being, he is guilty of manslaughter, whether he intends to cause death or not.

The court will tell you that if a man unlawfully sets in motion a dangerous force, and that results in the death of a human being, he is guilty of manslaughter, whether he intends to cause death or not.

The proof shows that the crowd which attacked the jail and killed Etherington loosed about Bolton that afternoon—talked of lynching the man—drank this counterfeited liquor—until, when darkness came, it was ready for riot and murder. It is for you to inquire whether or no the defendant, unlawfully sold by the defendant, had any part in bringing about this condition, and if it did, by his own confession, the defendant is guilty of manslaughter.

For our benefit the court has defined the words "aider, abettor and procurer."

We must remember that this crime was not a sudden outburst of popular wrath, brought about by the commission of some other crime, so horrible as to shock an entire community, as is usually the cause for a revolt to mob law.

Etherington was a stranger to every man in the mob; he had shot a man while defending his own life. Such things had often happened without causing more than passing notice. It was not the man himself or his act of shooting Howard that aroused the mob to murderous frenzy—it was his business—because he was a dry detective.

If his shooting of Howard had been of influence with the mob, the mob would have killed him at the jail, when the shooting occurred. No, the mob which formed at the time of the raids, which chased Etherington to the Park, beat and kicked him, struck him with black jacks and revolvers, until his nose was broken, his teeth knocked out—until, bleeding and exhausted, he was thrown into the county jail—this mob which attacked other dry detectives on the streets of Newark—here, there and everywhere—was not yet ready for murder—the idea had yet to incubate—it was not yet to brew before it was ready to break.

At the jail when Etherington was in a meeting was suggested Bolton's man, Bush, was there, the most active among the crowd.

That there was a meeting and definite plans laid, the events of the early evening demonstrate beyond a doubt.

All that afternoon Bolton's place was headquarters. He tells us himself that the crowd was there all afternoon—in the early evening—while all was peaceable about the jail.

Joe Bush, self-confessed participant in the murder of Etherington, Montella Wath, convicted for his part in the jail murder, Edgar Owen, Dick Holley, Charles Wilson and Walter Dicht, all under indictment for the murder of Carl Etherington, are seen to leave Bolton's place and go to the jail.

Immediately thereafter, Montella Wath makes the first incendiary speech. The crowd is urged on by Bush and others—an assault is organized on the jail, and for two horrible hours the miserable prisoner in the jail heard his death knell ringing out as steel crashed and rang against the steel doors of the jail.

Immediately thereafter, Montella Wath makes the first incendiary speech. The crowd is urged on by Bush and others—an assault is organized on the jail, and for two horrible hours the miserable prisoner in the jail heard his death knell ringing out as steel crashed and rang against the steel doors of the jail.

On, picture to yourselves, gentlemen of the jury, if you can, the agony and suffering that man endured.

First he heard the crowd grow angry and more angry; then curses

Labor Leader Arrested and Charged With Being Instigator of the Los Angeles Dynamite Plot.

CHRONOLOGY OF MEXICAN WAR.

Following is the history of the Mexican Revolution in chronological order:

Diaz re-elected President of Mexico, June 26, 1910.

Rebellion planned for election day frustrated by proclamation of martial law in border towns.

Rioting, City of Mexico, November 9, 1910. Rioting, Pueblo: 179 reported killed November 18, 1910.

Torreon attacked by insurrection of Madero faction Nov. 23, 1910. Rebels defeated; Insurrection reported crushed November 25, 1910.

Diaz reinaugurated, December 1, 1910.

Battle of Cerro Prieta, Chihuahua, December 12, 1910.

Federals defeated, La Junta, December 16, 1910.

Skirmish fighting in northern provinces since January 4, 1911.

Fighting around Juarez February 2-14, 1911, resulting in federal control of the city.

Battle of Casas Grandes, March 7, 1911.

United States troops ordered to Fort Sam Houston, Texas, March 7, 1911.

Finance Minister Limantour in conference at Washington, March 8, 1911.

Rebels invest Agua Prieta, March 9, 1911.

Rebels repulsed at Agua Prieta, March 12, 1911.

Rebel bombs blow up barracks at Juarez, March 15, 1911.

Limantour returns to Mexico, March 16, 1911.

President Madero, of "Provisional Republic," announces terms of peace March 17, 1911.

Severe fighting at Mexicali, March 18, 1911.

Rebels raid Chihuahua, Texas, March 20, 1911.

Diaz's Cabinet resigned March 24, 1911.

Rebels defeated in Sonora Province; may desert, March 28, 1911.

Mexican Congress in session; Diaz sends conciliatory message, April 1, 1911.

Rebels defeated at Aldama, April 2, 1911.

Battle of Agua Prieta, American killed by stray bullet in Douglas, Ariz., April 13, 1911.

Rebels massing in Agua Prieta, April 14-15, 1911.

Easter battles at various places April 16, 1911.

Rebels defeated federals at Agua Prieta, April 17, 1911.

Armistice signed April 22, 1911.

FIVE DAY ARMISTICE SIGNED BY

BELLIGERENT MEXICANS SUNDAY

El Paso, April 24.—An armistice of five days beginning at noon yesterday, and affecting the district between Juarez and Chihuahua and west of the latter city was made effective yesterday in an exchange of identical letters signed by General Francisco I. Madero for the rebels and General Juan Navarro for the government.

The truce provides that there shall be no movement of troops of either side during the next five days and that provisions and medicines may be brought to either camp from the American side without payment of duty.

Actual peace negotiations preceded the armistice. It was, of course, known that a truce was agreeable to Madero and a telegram from the city of Mexico informed General Madero that General Navarro had been instructed by President Diaz to enter into the pact.

The concessions which have been known for two weeks, Madero, ever since Fred Costello, serving in Mexico, visited General Madero at Rio, they were discussed by the various leaders of the peace mission.

Much of the discussion, the publication desired at this time, however, that General Madero, most authentic assurance attitude on the part of the government. In fact, it was President Diaz who adopted every measure which would insure the return of the revolutionaries to their farms and shops.

What was of a nature which is not to be stated, however, is that General Madero has the support of the government.

He again demands government interference, and along the lines laid down in his previous letter charges the roads with retarding commercial progress and gorging great profits from the people.

Columbus, April 24.—An iron key shaped so that it would unlock 75 cells in the penitentiary was found yesterday on Fred Costello, serving four years for burglary. Penitentiary officials have suspected that some one had a key and yesterday the searched 175 men and found it. They say its use would have liberated 175 men. Costello is now in a solitary.

THE HOUSE TO RUSH BUSINESS

Columbus, April 24.—Following Speaker Vining's threat to dissolve unless it acted on important bills, the calendar committee of the house has promised to report out the big bills.

Soldiers to measure the distance between the front door and the rear door of the building.

Colombus, April 24.—The auto tax general discovered today that 12 million corporations in the state are delinquent in the payment of the Willis tax. It is estimated that they owe more than $5,000,000. The Willis corporation tax law was passed in 1902 and some corporations have ignored it ever since. Attorney General Hogan will start suit to recover the back taxes and penalties.

You never know just how a man is going to strike you when you first meet him, nor for how much.

Some men are like some guns. We never know when they are loaded.

(Continued on page 5, col. 5)

WHAT IS IT?

What part of a house?

Answer to Saturday's puzzle—

NEW WALKS TO BE LAID THIS SPRING

Many new cement walks will be laid in Newark this spring if the number of orders now being received by the cement contractors means anything. The Board of Trade and the City Council have been agitating the sidewalk question and the council has proceeded to pave the way for many new walks. If these walks are not placed by the property owners as directed the city will do the work and charge the cost to the property.

The fact is, Newark sidewalks are a disgrace to the town. Many of them are worse than none and some of them in the heart of the business section are as bad as they could possibly be. It is time to act, and the only reason many people have not had new walks long ago is that their neighbors have shown no disposition to join in the movement. As many walks are to go in before the city does the work, it will be well to get your order in early.

MINISTERS CONDEMN COX JUDGES

Cincinnati, April 24.—Resolution demanding an investigation of the conduct of the judges in the Cox perjury case were passed here today by the Methodist ministers' conference. The various technicalities presented Cox are cited and Presiding Judge Hunt is charged with conduct not in keeping with his office because of his charge to the grand jury. A copy of the resolution will be mailed to Attorney General Hogan.

JUDGE NICHOLAS

Of Coshocton, Will Preside at the Trial of Quincy Sutley, on May First.

The next person to be tried in this city on the charge of first degree murder in connection with the Etherington lynching on the 8th of last July, will be Quincy Sutley. Judge Nicholas of Coshocton will preside at this trial which will commence on Monday, May 1.

IS GOVERNMENT TO MAKE WAR ON STEEL TRUST?

Cleveland, April 24.—The first gun in the government fight against the steel trust railroads will be fired when the federal grand jury reports today or tomorrow. It reconvened today and District Attorney Day placed before it a 100-page indictment said to implicate officials of many subsidiary concerns of the steel trust and officers of many railroads and bank companies. It is said that this case will probably furnish a basis for a governmental attack on which the steel trust has a hold.

Cincinnati, April 24.—They have hung innocent men before. God knows what will happen to my boys, and such good boys to their mothers as they are; bless them. I'm afraid as they are so far away from me. This is what Mrs. Mary McNamara told a United Press man at her home here today. She has absolute faith in the innocence of her two boys. Her first knowledge of their trouble came when she read the Sunday papers, and she refused to take comfort from the fact that union labor is rallying to their support.

After telling what good boys they were, she rung her hands

Beautiful 18c Serpentine Crepes 12c Tomorrow Morning

Everywhere the country over, the Genuine Serpentine Crepes are sold at 18c a yard. They are the one cloth pre-eminent for Summer Kimonos, Dressing Sacques and House Gowns. We will offer a selection of over 1500 yards of all the best designs, such as Cherry and Apple Blossoms, Wisteria, Japanese designs, Butterflies and the other artistic patterns on all the various colored grounds, such as pink, grey, tan, reseda, navy, red, black and white, all at 12c a yard, Tuesday.

2500 Yards 32-inch Wide Ginghams 15c Qualities for 11c Yard

The greatest Gingham value that will be offered to you this season: 32 inches wide, fine Zephyr fabric. The best 15c quality in plain colors, hair line stripes, small checks and novelty broken plaids of all sorts. Tuesday ..... 11c a yard

200 Pieces All Silk Ribbon 5 Inches Wide 14c Yard

Three kinds of all Silk Ribbons, all worth 19c a yard, in every imaginable shade in both plain and modied, will be offered in this lot tomorrow. These ribbons are full 5 inches wide and can be found in different shades of navy, copper, tan, reseda, pink, white, black, light blue, helio, and a big line of changeable combinations for millinery purposes. All 14c a yard Tuesday.

THE NEWARK TRUST CO.

Capital and Surplus $300,000.00
Gives careful, prompt and competent attention to all business intrusted to it.

THE GARDEN

Pick off all the blossoms from newly-set strawberry beds; thus you send all the plants' strength back into them—into growth. It is unwise to let plants fruit the first season.

Two ounces of fresh white pepper steeped in one gallon of hot water used as a spray, is the best remedy for currant and gooseberry worms. But it must be used early, when the first worms appear. Watch for 'em.

Surplus suckers in blackberry or raspberry patches should be treated just like weeds: don't let the rows get too wide nor too thick. But do not hoe up all the new shoots coming up in the rows; remember that your berry crop next year will depend on canes which are grown this season. Many fruit growers advise that the new growth of raspberry and blackberry canes which is to furnish the fruit next year should be pinched off when about 18 inches high.

Don't forget to spray the grape vines. For the grape-vine borer, which causes wormy grapes, the Bordeaux-arsenical mixture or the soft-boiled lime-sulphur arsenite should be used about the time the berries reach the size of a small cherry, seed or slightly beyond, repeated in two or three weeks. Pepper spray is also a preventive of grape mildew, etc. When the berries are plucked they should be plucked off and destroyed, to prevent further development of the pests. Farm Journal for May.

IN DRY TERRITORY.

An easterner arrived in a certain political state and town a few days ago. He became ill and died a day or two later. His host seemed willing to continue to forget to invite him. The conference of the visitor was at last exhausted and he summoned up enough courage to say that he had no practical, theoretical or even academic directions to give him. "Is there any place I should go?" he said. "It's 3 o'clock, the bank is closed, but we can go almost anywhere else. Let us go to this bookstore." — New York Telegraph.

The Citizens 5, 10 and 25c Stores Co. In The Arcade

On account of the delay in receiving some of the fixtures for our new store the opening date will be delayed for a few days. Watch the papers and our windows for the opening announcement.

The Citizens 5, 10 and 25c Stores Co. In The Arcade

Backward weather season we are slashing prices a month ahead of time on Go-Carts.

For a one motion folder English leather trimmed hood strongly constructed Go-Cart worth $6.50.

$3.98

KEMPER SCOTT

Furniture and Upholstering,
14 North Third St.

Tomorrow Will Be READY-TO-WEAR DAY In Our Great White Sale

A special pricing of new Spring Coats and Suits. A recent purchase from several eastern manufacturers at great price concessions enables us to offer you values out of the ordinary. These coats and suits are from New York's very best makers and contains the very newest and latest, up-to-the-minute models. The cloths, fit and workmanship are the very highest class obtainable. We would advise you to come as early in the day as possible, as there are many suits and coats of which there are only one of a kind.

TAILORED SUIT SPECIALS.

Suits at $10.00—worth up to $15.00.
Suits at $14.95—worth up to $21.50.
Suits at $23.95—worth up to $40.00.

COAT SPECIALS.

Long White Serge Coats—Special at ..... $5.95
Long Tan Covert Coats—Special at ..... $7.95
Long Tan Serge Coats—Special at ..... $8.50
Long Tan and White Coats—Special at ..... $9.73
Long Tan and White Coats—Special at ..... $14.59

BEAUTIFUL LINE OF CHILDREN'S NEW COATS

All Wool Panama Dress Skirts, in black and colors.
Special at ..... $3.95
Other Special Values at ..... $5.00, $7.50, $10 and $15

RAIN COAT SPECIAL.

Ladies' and Misses' beautiful Grey Rubberized Rain Coats. Special at ..... $4.95
Beautiful New Lingerie Dresses in white and colors, at ..... $2.95, $4.95, $7.95 and $12.95
Ladies' and Misses' Plain Tailored Taffeta Silk Dress, $10.00 value. Special at ..... $5.95

EVENING DRESSES

BEAUTIFUL NEW CREATIONS

Never & Lindorf
NEWARK, OHIO.

NEWARK MAN GETS DIVORCE IN MILWAUKEE

Mr. William W. Rogers, a formerly well in Newark, Ohio, has just been granted a divorce from his wife, Bessie, formerly a telephone girl in Newark.

Mr. Rogers, a bootbreaker, 25 years of age, has brought from his man's in court quite a sum from the dismemberment of his early marriage. He told Judge H. W. Miller that he took his wife at an early age. He was only 18 when he fell in love with a very tiny, one girl. Her name was Bessie, and she was only 15. She set up. He got her down at Rogers' native city, Newark, O. At the time he was a very clerk earning $15 a week, but he thought he could support a wife and did so until she became too extravagant and demands grew, he said. They were married in Newark on July 19, 1904.

"Please tell the sit what happened," the attorney representing Rogers requested.

"We quarreled," he replied. "I will only make a statement myself for legal she didn't appreciate the effort. She tried me all right. I liked clothes better. That was the cause of our trouble. I wanted to dress up and walk down town in the afternoon and she took a deep interest in her appearance than she did in our happiness. I spent all the money I could afford to satisfy her wants, but it wasn't enough and she was dissatisfied. So I went to Newark and rented a place where I worked twice and I urged her to do the same, but she never answered my letters."

"Did she ever treat her at all?" the attorney inquired.

"Yes, from my mother and father in Newark," the witness replied. "While she is now living in Newark, I don't know if she is still there. There was one woman who was a maid, who was adopted by her mother. Mrs. Rogers was when he was in Newark. Judge H. W. Miller granted a divorce.

C. W. Rogers was formerly a well-known young man of Newark, and made his home with his mother, brother and sisters on Poplar avenue. He had many friends here and several years ago was employed by J. P. Murphy, the West Main street grocer. About seven years ago he was married to Miss Bessie Foy, a popular young woman employed by the Newark Telephone company. Shortly after his marriage Mr. Rogers and his wife went to Detroit, where for a short time he worked at his trade, that of a boiler maker. He soon tired of his job in Detroit, however, and went to Milwaukee, where he has been engaged in working at his trade for the past year and a half. From all accounts the young people have not been living together happily, and only a week ago a friend of Mr. Rogers in Newark received a letter from him informing him that he had commenced proceedings against his wife for divorce.

"Then my old rival, the Rag Bag gets 'em."

"But it's different with Corliss-Coon Collars."

"They keep coming and going—coming and going."

"Hold the record for trips to the laundry."

"Get acquainted with them."

A Tabor Story.

Count Modjeska's husband, was arranging with Senator Tabor for Modjeska's first appearance in Denver, and the founder of drama is in Denver asked what parts she played.

"Well," said the count, "there is Mary Stuart."

"Who wrote it?" asked Tabor.

"Schiller," said the count.

"Is he a first class dramatist?" asked Tabor.

"Surely, surely," said the count.

"He is most illustrious."

"Humph! Never heard of him," commented Tabor. "What else does he do?"

"As You Like It," "Antony and Cleopatra," "Macbeth,"—"

"Who wrote them?"

"Shakespeare."

"How's he? Good writer?"

"Excellent, excellent."

"Well," said Tabor musingly, "those fellows may be all right as authors, but they ain't well enough known to suit the people out here. What we want is something popular, something that everybody's heard of. I tell you what you do—get her to go and give us something of Hoyt's."

Please tell the sit what happened," the attorney representing Rogers requested.

"We quarreled," he replied. "I will only make a statement myself for legal she didn't appreciate the effort. She tried me all right. I liked clothes better. That was the cause of our trouble. I wanted to dress up and walk down town in the afternoon and she took a deep interest in her appearance than she did in our happiness. I spent all the money I could afford to satisfy her wants, but it wasn't enough and she was dissatisfied. So I went to Newark and rented a place where I worked twice and I urged her to do the same, but she never answered my letters."

"Did she ever treat her at all?" the attorney inquired.

"Yes, from my mother and father in Newark," the witness replied. "While she is now living in Newark, I don't know if she is still there. There was one woman who was a maid, who was adopted by her mother. Mrs. Rogers was when he was in Newark. Judge H. W. Miller granted a divorce.

C. W. Rogers was formerly a well-known young man of Newark, and made his home with his mother, brother and sisters on Poplar avenue. He had many friends here and several years ago was employed by J. P. Murphy, the West Main street grocer. About seven years ago he was married to Miss Bessie Foy, a popular young woman employed by the Newark Telephone company. Shortly after his marriage Mr. Rogers and his wife went to Detroit, where for a short time he worked at his trade, that of a boiler maker. He soon tired of his job in Detroit, however, and went to Milwaukee, where he has been engaged in working at his trade for the past year and a half. From all accounts the young people have not been living together happily, and only a week ago a friend of Mr. Rogers in Newark received a letter from him informing him that he had commenced proceedings against his wife for divorce.

"Then my old rival, the Rag Bag gets 'em."

"But it's different with Corliss-Coon Collars."

"They keep coming and going—coming and going."

"Hold the record for trips to the laundry."

"Get acquainted with them."

SHAI & HILL Dentists

We Specialize on Crown and Bridge Work.
Both Phones Open Evenings Lady Attendant

South East Corner Square

$150 Won't Buy The Best Piano But at $150, $175 and $200

we are showing a line which represent the best possible values obtainable at these prices.

All sold on the easiest possible terms.

Call in and investigate.

THE MUNSON MUSIC CO. 27 WEST MAIN ST.

YES, THANK YOU

We are ready to serve you with the Spring Styles, consisting of the best styles from the fashion centers of the world.

Many new arrivals are being placed on sale daily.

We now have the largest and best selection of Smart Clothes, Up-to-Date Hats and Swell Furnishings for Men, Boys and Children ever shown in Newark.

HOME OF

Stein-Block Smart Clothes

Strong & Bros. High Art Clothes

L. System College Clothes

Knox and Hawes Hats

Manhattan and Eclipse Shirts

SEE OUR

$10, $15, $20 Specials In Men's Suits

Corliss-Coon Hand Made Collars 2 for 25¢

We show many styles of the above collar and have the size and style you'll like. Home of the quarter sizes and soft collars.

MABEL LAKE VERNON,
Flora, Ill., April 22, 1911.

Some men expect to be given a chance, others take it.

Nubread

the store where quality counts.

HERMANN

THE CLOTHIER.

Holeproof Hosiery

"The Store of Newark, O.—Where Quality Counts."

IN SOCIAL CIRCLES

Mrs. C. W. Miller is the entertaining hostess this week to the members of the Thursday Bridge club. Mrs. Miller will entertain the club on the club day at her home in Hudson avenue.

Hetuck Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will hold the meeting for the month of May on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. W. Miller in Hudson avenue.

Mrs. J. S. Beecher has issued invitations for a thimble party for Tuesday afternoon at her West Church street home, honoring her daughter, Mrs. Jamison of Mansfield.

T. L. Montgomery and sons Benjamin and John went to Newark Saturday evening where they spent Sunday with Mr. Montgomery's mother. Dr. E. E. Montgomery of Philadelphia is also expected to arrive in Newark to spend Sunday as the guest of his mother.—Cochetown Tribune.

At a dinner dance given Friday evening at the Hotel Elmont by the Alpha Theta fraternity of Ohio State University, Misses Ruth Pence and Helen Drake of Newark, Hollie Boner, and Maude Owings of Centerville, were among the out of town guests.

The Sunday Cleveland Plain Dealer carried a very pretty account of the wedding of Miss Marie Younglove Meriam and Mr. Charles B. Ingersoll, which took place Wednesday in the Presbyterian church of East Cleveland. Mrs. Catherine King and Miss Florence King of this city were guests at the wedding. Miss King, aunt of the bride, played a half hour recital before the hour for the ceremony and also rendered the wedding marches.

A very pleasant surprise party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Inlow, who reside about six miles east of the city, on Thursday, April 20, 1911, honoring Mr. Inlow, who had just passed the fiftieth milestone of his life.

The relatives and friends of the family came early in the day and when the noon hour arrived all enjoyed a bounteous feast.

The afternoon was spent with music and social conversation, and at a late hour the guests departed, all having edges to prevent sticking. When set,

Heart and Home Talks

by Barbara Boyd
Problems of the Business Girl.

A Girl and Her Employer.

ABUSINESS girl writes that her employer is beginning to pay her some trifling attentions, and she doesn't know exactly what to do. He has walked to the station with her, she is a commuter, after business. He has made her one or two trifling gifts. wants to know just what she ought to do, for she says, "I don't want to lose my job."

Her letter is not just as explicit as it might be, but in general, it is wisest for a business girl to discourage attentions from her employer. The wisest course is never to put herself in a position where they will be offered. The experienced business woman knows this and has acquired enough tact to handle the situation. But the little, new, business girl with her first position and her innocent faith in the goodness of the world, doesn't know the attitude she should take from the start, and so often finds herself confronted with some such problem as this without being really in any way responsible for it.

A girl doesn't need to be stiff or priggish, to keep relations between herself and her employer purely on a business basis. She can be pleasant without ever dropping into familiarity. She can perform her work cheerfully and loyally without the relationship between them ever shifting from a business into a social one, she can always maintain in a well-bred way the distinction. The right kind of man will respect her for it; the wrong kind cannot get beyond this barrier.

Sometimes a girl enters the office of a friend or a friend of the family. Sometimes she is in the same office for years and years and so a little more intimacy slips in. Such circumstances, of course, change the complexion of the relationship somewhat. But the young business girl who is in this office today, and another one in six months, will find it best to preserve a strictly business attitude toward her employer, no matter what advances he may make. And if she starts right, he will never make the advances.

This does not mean he will not like her. He will probably like her all the more. And if this feeling should deepen into something more serious, as it has done in many offices, rest assured if he is the right kind of man, he will find a way to let her know it, without in any way compromising her.

For, generally speaking, it does compromise a business girl to be seen going about with her employer, and to be known to receive gifts from him. The world is censorious and critical. The business world is as full of gossips as is the social realm; and a business girl should give no grounds to be gossiped about, even if there is not a word of truth in what is said. She does not know what business prospects it may spoil for her. And the right kind of business girl is in business for her work and to get ahead. She is not there for social diversion. She is there purely for business purposes.

Therefore, it would be well for this girl to avoid meeting her employer after business. She should go out of her way to make it impossible for him to run across her. If this is kept up for a while, he will probably take the hint. When she does see him, she should greet him in the cool, non-committal fashion with which she greets a business acquaintance. There should be none of the cordial warmth given to a friend. This can be done so tactfully that he cannot get offended.

The matter of the gifts is a little more difficult, for one doesn't like to seem unappreciative. But it is sometimes best to choose the difficult course. By making the business manner even a little more pronounced for a while, the man, if he is the right sort, will take his cue. And if he is the wrong sort, there is all the more reason for taking a firm stand. But he is probably only thoughtless. He may not realize he is causing unpleasant things to be said about this little office girl.

But the wisest course for a girl to adopt when she takes a new position, is from the start to maintain a pleasant, but absolutely unmistakable business manner. It will win respect and ward off undesirable attentions.

Barbara Boyd

Dust with sugar, roll and turn out on a hot dish. Dust with sugar and glaze with a salamander or a hot glue lid; or if you have a gas boiler, set it under the flame for a moment.

Austrian Coffee—Make a strong drip coffee, add sugar and cream to taste and set away until very cold. Before serving, put a spoonful of vanilla ice cream in each cup.

Few Escape Cures.
They come to the young, the old, the weak and the strong. In all cases, cure is effected in 24 hours, by Putnam's Painless Corn and Wart Extractor. This remedy is painless, it's sure, it always cures. Don't experiment. Use the old and reliable Putnam's Painless Corn and Wart Extractor. Price 25c. Sold by Erman & Son.

OBITUARY

MR. MORRIS MCILYAR.

Friends in this city will be shocked to hear of the sudden death of Mr. Morris McIllyar, of Cambridge. Mr. McIllyar, who had seemed in his usual health, was spending Sunday afternoon at his office, 351 Wheeling avenue, and there his lifeless body was found at 3 o'clock by his son, death having been caused by apoplexy. A peculiar co-incident is that in the same room, on the same day of the month, eight years ago, occurred the sudden death of his wife, who was Miss Abbie O'Dell, of Granville. The deceased is survived by one son, Ray McIllyar, of Cambridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Friend Jones of this city will attend the funeral services on Tuesday, Mrs. Jones being a sister of Mrs. McIllyar.

DEATH OF INFANT.

Richard, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Smith, died at the home of the parents, 174 Buckingham street, on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock, after an illness of three weeks, aged ten weeks. The funeral services will be held at the home on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock by the Rev. L. C. Sparks, and the interment will be made in Cedar Hill cemetery.

MRS. PHOBURN BOYLES.

Mrs. Jenkins of Maple avenue was called to Columbus by the sudden death of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Phoburn Boyles.

MR. FRANK ADAMS.

Mrs. G. A. Tomlinson, 220 North Vine street, received word of the death of her brother, Mr. Frank Adams, of Brooklyn, N. Y. Mr. Adams will be remembered here as having spent a few weeks here last fall. Mr. and Mrs. Tomlinson leave this evening for Petrolia, Canada, where the funeral will take place.

MISS ANNIE E. ROBERTS.

Miss Annie E. Roberts, aged 62 years, died at St. Anthony's hospital Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Death resulted after an illness extending over three months of a complication of diseases. Miss Roberts resided in Mount Court this city and leaves no near relatives.

The body will be brought to Newark today and the funeral will be held Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Francis de Sales church, Rev. Father Ryan officiating. Burial will be made in Mt. Calvary cemetery.

TWO NEW BUILDINGS.

The old Gregory barn which has for several years been occupied by Charles D. Lake's livery stable, is now being torn down. When the old brick building is removed and cellar excavated, the Arcade Realty company will build a two-story business block on this lot which is 60x70 feet in size. In the rear of the American Tribune block a new two-story brick business block, 50x10 will be built, work upon which has started. These buildings will have six first floor store rooms.

COFFEE CONGESTION

Causes a Variety of Ills.
A happy old lady from Wisconsin says:

"During the time I was a coffee drinker I was subject to sick headaches sometimes lasting 2 or 3 days, totally unfitting me for anything."

"To this affliction was added, some years ago, a trouble with my heart that was very painful, accompanied by a smothering sensation and faintness."

Dyspepsia, also, came to make life harder to bear. I took all sorts of patent medicines, but none of them helped me for any length of time.

"The doctors frequently told me that coffee was not good for me, but without coffee I felt as if I had no breakfast. I finally decided about 2 years ago to abandon the use of coffee entirely, and as I had read a great deal about Postum I concluded to try that for breakfast beverage. I liked the taste of it and was particularly pleased to notice that it did not 'come up' as coffee used to. The bad spells with my heart grew less frequent, and finally ceased altogether, and I have not had an attack of sick headache for more than a year. My digestion is good, too, and I am thankful that I am once more a healthy woman. I know my wonderful restoration to health came from quitting coffee and using Postum." Name given by the Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

"There's a reason, and it is this. Coffee has a direct action on the liver with some people and causes partial congestion of that organ, preventing the natural outlet of the secretions. Then may follow biliousness, sallow skin, headaches, constipation and finally a change of the blood corpuscles and nervous prostration.

Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pugs. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true and full of human interest. . . .

A Great Battle Painter

How He Got His Start
By GERALD L. PERKINS
Copyright by American Press Association.

The battle of Gravelotte had been fought; a smoke mist still hung over the field, though in the gathering darkness it was gradually becoming imperceptible. A man carrying a portfolio and paraphernalia necessary to sketching left the field and, making his way to a hut on hill overlooking the scene of the engagement that had occurred that day between the French and the Prussians, entered the hut and asked if he might have some supper.

"Certainly, monsieur," said a woman who was there, "but we can give you very little. The soldiers of both armies have taken all we have except a few bits that we hid in the cellar. Come, Fanchette, beatir yourself and set the table!"

The table was set and the supper put upon it. The stranger sat down, and Fanchette poured into his glass some of the cheap wine of the country. She was between seventeen and eighteen years old, a simple French maid who had no secrets from any one in the world.

"You wear a sad look, Fanchette," said the stranger. "Is it from seeing the slaughter today?"

"No, monsieur. I did not look that way."

"Well, then, tell me what troubles you."

"It is this, monsieur. Antoine Brisson went out a song, the fighting and received a wound. He is lying now in the next room."

"He is your brother?"

"No, monsieur."

"Well, then, he is your lover?"

To this the only reply was eyes cast upon the floor.

"What was he doing out there-fighting?"

"No, monsieur; he has not yet become a conscript. He will not be the age for a month."

"Well, then, what business had he on a battlefield?"

"Sketching."

"Sketching? That's what I was doing there. When I have finished my supper I will go in and see him."

The stranger chatted on with the girl and easily gleaned from her that she and Antoine could not marry because she had no dot. After having supped and smoked a pipe the artist went into the room where Antoine was lying. The boy had received a flesh wound, but not of sufficient importance to endanger his life.

"So you were making sketches of the fight?" said the artist. "That is my business. I have been drawing for one of the Paris illustrated papers. Let me see what you have done."

Fanchette took an improvised portfolio that she had made for her lover of two pieces of pasteboard laced together with a string and brought it to the artist. There were blood stains on it, but he did not mind that. He had seen plenty of blood that day. He opened the portfolio, took out what there was in it—five or six sketches—and began to look them over.

"Where did you learn to sketch?" he asked the boy.

"I have never learned, monsieur," he replied.

"Never studied in an art school; never had any instruction?"

"No, monsieur."

The artist went on looking at the sketches one after the other and when he had seen them all looked at them again. Then he turned his eyes to the boy on the bed.

"Do you know, my boy, that my paper sent me here to make sketches of this battle? I have graduated at the art school with honors, and yet you who have never taken a lesson have done what I cannot do."

"What do you mean, monsieur?" asked the boy, his eyes opening very wide, while Fanchette was all attention.

"You are a born battle painter. You have put into these crude sketches an action that I have not been able to put in mine. And you have known what scenes to select. Your soldiers move; they fight; they are impelled by the demon of war; they die—really die, while mine—well, mine beside yours are like toy soldiers."

"Oh, monsieur," exclaimed Fanchette, clasping her hands, "how good you are to say that!"

"Good to say that! I'm not talking to please you. I'm telling you the truth. And, to prove what I say, if Antoine I have been recovered will come to Paris I am sure I can interest art lovers in him who will see that he deserves instruction."

"Oh, monsieur," replied Fanchette, "how can he do that? He has no money. He would have to walk to Paris."

"Not at all. I will take these sketches with me. They will be used in one of the illustrated papers and will be well paid for. The money received for them I will send to Antoine."

The same night, having hired a conveyance, the artist set out post haste for Paris. Antoine's sketches were produced and created a sensation. The money paid for them was sent him. He went to Paris, where owing to the interest created by his pictures he was taken up and educated by the paper that published them.

All this occurred forty years ago. and the great battle painter has flourished and passed away. His widow loves to tell how he got his start.

d24-28-28

BANKRUPT SALE

of the stock of the

Powers-Miller Company's Big Store

Opens tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock with the

MOST EXTRAORDINARY BARGAINS

ever offered the people of this section of the country.

The entire stock will be closed out speedily, commencing tomorrow, with the stocks on the Second and Third Floors, which consist of

TAILORED SUITS, COATS, SKIRTS, DRESSES, WAISTS, MUSLIN AND KNIT UNDERWEAR, SILK PETTICOATS, MILLINERY, CUT GLASS, ETC.

Nothing will be sold from the other departments tomorrow, at any price, but they will be placed on sale as soon as they can be marked at the reduced prices.

Don't Miss This Big Sale

Commencing tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock.

JOHN J. CARROLL

Corsets

GOSSARD
BON TON
LA CAMILLE and
ROYAL WORCESTER

High Grade Corsets

at less than Manufacturers' Prices
at the
BANKRUPT SALE of the

Powers-Miller Stock

Tomorrow Morning at 9 o'clock

John J. Carroll

An Opportunity to Secure
GOOD TYPEWRITER PAPER
AT SMALL COST

We have an overstock of one size typewriter paper (8½x14), a good quality, light weight, that you can secure at a very low price.

We need the floor space, and in order to move it quickly, will give you the opportunity of securing your typewriter paper at small cost, as long as it lasts. Ask for "Register Special."

500 sheets, 8½x14.....$ .80
1000 sheets, 8½x14.....1.50
2000 sheets, 8½x14.....2.75

Newark Daily Advocate
Published by the
NEWARK PRINTING COMPANY

A. H. NEWTON, Editor.
C. M. SPENCER, Manager.
Entered as second class matter
March 20, 1902, at the post office at Newark, Ohio, under Act of March 6, 1893.

Terms of subscription:
Single Copy ..... 3 cts
Delivered by carrier, per week, 10 cts
If paid in advance:
Delivered by carrier—one month $ .40
Delivered by carrier—six months 2.25
Delivered by carrier—one year 4.50
All subscribers who arrange to pay at the office are subject to a call from the collector if payment is not made when due.

Terms by Mail:
(Strictly in Advance.)
One month ..... $ .25
Three months ..... 65
Six months ..... 1.25
One year ..... 2.50
All subscriptions discontinued at end of time for which they are paid unless renewed before expiration.

ADVOCATE PHONE.
Independent Branch Exchange.
Editorial Department ..... 59
Business Office ..... 61
When one number is busy call on other
Bell.
Editorial Department ..... 59
Business Office ..... 59

MEMBER SELECT LIST OF OHIO
DAILY NEWSPAPERS.
Advocate's New York Office—116 Nassau street, Robert Tomea, Eastern Representative.
Advocate's Chicago Office—116 Dearborn St., Allen & Ward, Western Representatives.

April 23 In American History.

1812—Stephen Arnold Douglas, statesman, Democratic contemporary of Abraham Lincoln, born; died 1861.
1860—the famous national Democratic convention met in Charleston. The convention divided on the issue of slavery, and two Democratic electors were ultimately made, giving the election to Lincoln.
1905—Joseph Jefferson, veteran actor, died; born 1829.
1909—Former United States Senator William M. Stewart of Nevada died in Washington; born 1827.

ASTRONOMICAL EVENTS.

(From noon today to noon tomorrow.) Sun sets 6:43, rises 5:54; moon rises 3:15 a.m.; moon at greatest elevation east; 8:02 p.m., moon in conjunction with Mars, passing from west to east of the planet, 32° degrees south thereof; 12:30 a.m., Jupiter's satellites Nos. 1, 2 and 4 seen close to planet on west and No. 8 far on east.

April 24 In American History.
1794—Thomas Addis Emmet, distinguished Irish American, brother of the ill starred Robert Emmet, born; died in New York city 1827.
1862—Federal fleet under Farragut passed the Confederate forts at New Orleans.
1898—President McKinley called for 125,000 volunteers.

ASTRONOMICAL EVENTS.

(From noon today to noon tomorrow.) Sun sets 6:44, rises 5:55; moon rises 3:29 a.m.; 3 a.m., planet Mercury apparently stationary.

ASHBROOK'S MOVE TO HAVE PRAYERS
PRINTED IN RECORD

The Congressional Record will hereafter print each day the morning prayer of the Chaplain of the House.

Congressman Ashbrook, who is as versatile as he is industrious, caused this action to be taken and as a result is receiving much favorable comment in the press all over the country.

We take from the Record the following colloquy between Mr. Ashbrook and Speaker Clark a few days ago:

"MR. ASHBROOK: Mr. Speaker, I do not believe there are any words uttered within this Chamber that are more worthy of preservation or of more benefit to those who read the Congressional Record than those which fall from the lips of our Chaplain every morning. It will take but a scintill of space in the Record to print the invocation of our beloved blind Chaplain, and I therefore ask unanimous consent that hereafter during the Sixty-second Congress the morning prayer be printed in the Congressional Record."

"THE SPEAKER: The Chair agrees with the sentiment and directs that the prayers be published in the Record."

It will be remembered that four years ago immediately after President Roosevelt caused the motto "In God We Trust" to be removed from our coins that Congressman Ashbrook introduced a bill to have the motto restored and is largely responsible for its restoration to all of our coins.

It is said that the Republicans in Congress find themselves "out of touch with Taft." Aren't they also out of

Easy to Take
Easy to operate—is true of Hood's Pills because they are made from the choicest and purest vegetable laxatives. No mercury or calomel. They never grip nor cause any disturbance. Thus they are well liked by delicate women and children. 25c.

touch with several millions of Taft's fellow-citizens? Last fall's balloting appears to be remembered by Mr. Taft but not by those who are opposing a betterment of conditions.

Mr. Cannon exaggerates when he says that the Canadian reciprocity agreement "affects the prosperity of every road in the land." It is not quite so far-reaching as that, but its beneficial effects will be very widely felt. That is not what the ex-Speaker means. He means that a moderate reduction of duties on imports from Canada will bring suffering and distress into every home in the country. Of course that is ridiculous; and Mr. Cannon's words are worth notice only because they show what a hide-bound reactionary he is, and what a spectacle an ultra-Protectionist may make of himself.

At the last session of Congress the Canadian Reciprocity bill passed a Republican House of Representatives, on February 14, by a vote of 221 to 92. The vote by which the bill passed the Democratic House last Friday was 265 to 89.

WHY HESITATE?

An Offer That Involves No Risk for Those Who Accept It.

We are so positive our remedy will completely relieve constipation, no matter how chronic it may be, that we offer to furnish it free of all cost if it fails.

Constipation is caused by weakness of the nerves and muscles of the large intestines and descending colon. To expect a cure you must therefore tone up and strengthen those organs and restore them to healthier activity.

We want you to try Rexall Oderlies on our guarantee. They are eaten like candy, and are particularly ideal for children. They act directly on the nerves and muscles of the bowels. They have a neutral action on the other organs or glands. They do not purge or cause any inconvenience whatever. They will positively overcome chronic or habitual constipation and the myriads of associate or dependent chronic ailments. Try Rexall Oderlies at our risk. Two sizes, 10c and 25c. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store, Hall's Drug Store, 10 North Side Square.

Nubread

The Merits of "Angelico Snuff."

Angelico snuff, the most noted composition in the world, removes all manner of disorders of the head and brain, easing the most excruciating pain in a moment, taking away all swimming and giddiness proceeding from vapors, etc., also drowsiness, sleepiness and other lethargic effects perfectly curing drowsiness to admiration and all blemishes and soreness in the eyes, etc. Corroborates the brain, comforts the nerves and revives the spirits. Its admirable efficacy in all the above mentioned diseases has been experienced above a thousand times and very justly causes it to be esteemed the most beneficial snuff in the world. Price is a paper, with directions. Sold only at Mr. Payn's toy shop at the Angel and Crown, in St. Paul's churchyard, near Cheapside.—Advertisement in London Paper, Aug. 6, 1711.

Brignoli in a Temper.

On one occasion Brignoli, the noted teacher, went on the stage to see Brignoli, the famous singer, whom he found pacing up and down like a madman, humming over his part.
"Why, Brig, what is the matter with you? Are you nervous?" he asked.
"Yes, I am nervous," was the reply as he walked harder and faster than ever.
"But, Brig, you ought not to be nervous. I heard you sing the part 200 times. I heard you sing it thirty years ago."

"Thirty years ago! Who are you that should know so much?"
"Who am I? You know who I am, and I know who you are."
"Very well; you know what I am, but I am sure you do not know what you are, and if you wish I will tell you. You are a fool!"

Hazing Him.

"Mr. Chairman," said the new member of the literary club, "I move you, sir!"

"I rise to a point of order, Mr. Chairman," interrupted one of the other members.

"State your point of order."

"The gentleman says 'I move you.' It is not only out of order but utterly absurd for a man of 114 pounds to talk of 'moving' a chairman who weighs 300."

"The point is well taken," roared the presiding officer, bringing his gravel down with a resounding thud. "The gentleman will merely 'move' or take his seat!"—Chicago Tribune.

A Cent.

A cent is a little thing, but in the aggregate it is mighty. We speak of the "cent," but it is not entirely copper. Its composition is 95 per cent copper, 3 per cent tin and 2 per cent zinc. That alloy is in reality bronze, and the official name of the cent is "bronze." There used to be a copper cent, but an act discontinuing its coinage was passed in 1857. For seven years (1857-64) we had a nickel cent and up to 1857 a copper half cent.

The secretion of the week in the West Virginia oil field of the high grade oil was a big gusher found on the Akin farm, in the Eagle district of Harrison county. This gusher during the first 24 hours production put 1,000 barrels of petroleum in tanks, making it by far the best well found in the state for some time. This well is in the Fourth sand count on Lambert's Run, which for a short time was in the spotlight and furn-

WINNER OF $1000 CORN TROPHY.

Form 4
R. A. James, Winner of W. K. Kellogg Trophy, with the Trophy and the 1910 Champion Ear.

R. A. James of Charleston, Ill., has the distinction of having grown the best ear of corn in all the 3,125,712 bushels of last year's bumper crop. At the National Corn Show just held at Columbus, this gentleman was awarded the W. K. Kellogg National Corn $1,000 Trophy donated by W. K. Kellogg, president of the Kellogg Toasted Corn Flake Co., of Battle Creek, Mich. The ear of corn grown by Mr. James is of Reid's Yellow Dent variety. It is 16 inches long, 7 1/2 inches in circumference, and has 24 rows of kernels, 6 to the inch in the row, average 5-8 of an inch in depth, and 5-10 of an inch in width.

CENTRAL OHIO FIELD.

The deep or Clinton sand of Central Ohio is attracting more real live attention than any of the more eastern sections of the high grade fields due to the finding of wonderful oil gas wells with an occasional good oil producer to liven up the activity. For a number of years the real legitimate oil man was afraid to tackle the deep sand districts, but since so many wildcat companies were organized and did some test work, with a result that the famous Junction City-Bremen field was opened up and pronounced a wonderful field, the operator has stepped in and secured a foot hold and will test their holdings now that they have considerable capital invested. The field is only in its prime and has hardly been touched by the drill. A dry hole in the deep sand does not condemn any large acreage around the well as has formerly been the case in other fields. Fairly good bonus figures have been paid for some of the territory where new advance producers have been drilled in and while some will make money, others are sure to get stung to some extent, but at the same time they are not backward and will take the hazardous chances.

The deep sand fields have been the leading attraction for many months and will remain so for at least a year or so yet, or until the long and wide area of territory is pretty thoroughly tested from Lake Erie to the Ohio river, a distance of a couple hundred miles. Around Frazeysburg in Coshocton county during the past few days the Columbus Gas & Fuel Co. drilled in a duster on the Fulks farm, about three miles southeast of the producing oil well on the Norris farm, but this duster does not mean that all the immediate surrounding territory is worthless, for such is not the cast and the one failure does not frighten others from starting tests nearby. There are no less than half a dozen wells drilling in the vicinity and some are about due for completion. It will take more than one dry hole to scare the well away. The Fulks farm well found about sixty feet of sand but it was found close and tight while a hundred feet away it may be found open and porous.

One of the interesting wells drilled was on the Griffith farm, on Bear Fork, Dixie district, of Lincoln county. This well was sunk to a total depth of 4,412 feet, but finding nothing the well will be put to pumping from the Berea grit, where it made a fairly good showing, and will make a small producer. This is by far the deepest test yet drilled in Lincoln county, and practically tested the deepest formation known there. This well being a purely experimental test, as of more than passing interest to the trade and the owners of the venture is no surprise, as in all deep wells drilled southwest of the Gordon and Fifth sand wells in Harrison, Lewis and the Ohio counties, nothing was found below the Berea grit formation. The lower formations were not looked at in other deep tests made over the state. The best that can be said is that the well showed up for the work of a barrel producer with some sand streaks. Ritchie county, the more shallow sand developed in the Wayne, Perry, and Cabell counties, nothing was found below the Berea grit formation. The lower formations were not looked at in other deep tests made over the state. The best that can be said is that the well showed up for the work of a barrel producer with some sand streaks. Ritchie county, the more shallow sand developed in the Wayne, Perry, and Cabell counties, nothing was found below the Berea grit formation. The lower formations were not looked at in other deep tests made over the state. The best that can be said is that the well showed up for the work of a barrel producer with some sand streaks. Ritchie county, the more shallow sand developed in the Wayne, Perry, and Cabell counties, nothing was found below the Berea grit formation. The lower formations were not looked at in other deep tests made over the state. The best that can be said is that the well showed up for the work of a barrel producer with some sand streaks. Ritchie county, the more shallow sand developed in the Wayne, Perry, and Cabell counties, nothing was found below the Berea grit formation. The lower formations were not looked at in other deep tests made over the state. The best that can be said is that the well showed up for the work of a barrel producer with some sand streaks. Ritchie county, the more shallow sand developed in the Wayne, Perry, and Cabell counties, nothing was found below the Berea grit formation. The lower formations were not looked at in other deep tests made over the state. The best that can be said is that the well showed up for the work of a barrel producer with some sand streaks. Ritchie county, the more shallow sand developed in the Wayne, Perry, and Cabell counties, nothing was found below the Berea grit formation. The lower formations were not looked at in other deep tests made over the state. The best that can be said is that the well showed up for the work of a barrel producer with some sand streaks. Ritchie county, the more shallow sand developed in the Wayne, Perry, and Cabell counties, nothing was found below the Berea grit formation. The lower formations were not looked at in other deep tests made over the state. The best that can be said is that the well showed up for the work of a barrel producer with some sand streaks. Ritchie county, the more shallow sand developed in the Wayne, Perry, and Cabell counties, nothing was found below the Berea grit formation. The lower formations were not looked at in other deep tests made over the state. The best that can be said is that the well showed up for the work of a barrel producer with some sand streaks. Ritchie county, the more shallow sand developed in the Wayne, Perry, and Cabell counties, nothing was found below the Berea grit formation. The lower formations were not looked at in other deep tests made over the state. The best that can be said is that the well showed up for the work of a barrel producer with some sand streaks. Ritchie county, the more shallow sand developed in the Wayne, Perry, and Cabell counties, nothing was found below the Berea grit formation. The lower formations were not looked at in other deep tests made over the state. The best that can be said is that the well showed up for the work of a barrel producer with some sand streaks. Ritchie county, the more shallow sand developed in the Wayne, Perry, and Cabell counties, nothing was found below the Berea grit formation. The lower formations were not looked at in other deep tests made over the state. The best that can be said is that the well showed up for the work of a barrel producer with some sand streaks. Ritchie county, the more shallow sand developed in the Wayne, Perry, and Cabell counties, nothing was found below the Berea grit formation. The lower formations were not looked at in other deep tests made over the state. The best that can be said is that the well showed up for the work of a barrel producer with some sand streaks. Ritchie county, the more shallow sand developed in the Wayne, Perry, and Cabell counties, nothing was found below the Berea grit formation. The lower formations were not looked at in other deep tests made over the state. The best that can be said is that the well showed up for the work of a barrel producer with some sand streaks. Ritchie county, the more shallow sand developed in the Wayne, Perry, and Cabell counties, nothing was found below the Berea grit formation. The lower formations were not looked at in other deep tests made over the state. The best that can be said is that the well showed up for the work of a barrel producer with some sand streaks. Ritchie county, the more shallow sand developed in the Wayne, Perry, and Cabell counties, nothing was found below the Berea grit formation. The lower formations were not looked at in other deep tests made over the state. The best that can be said is that the well showed up for the work of a barrel producer with some sand streaks. Ritchie county, the more shallow sand developed in the Wayne, Perry, and Cabell counties, nothing was found below the Berea grit formation. The lower formations were not looked at in other deep tests made over the state. The best that can be said is that the well showed up for the work of a barrel producer with some sand streaks. Ritchie county, the more shallow sand developed in the Wayne, Perry, and Cabell counties, nothing was found below the Berea grit formation. The lower formations were not looked at in other deep tests made over the state. The best that can be said is that the well showed up for the work of a barrel producer with some sand streaks. Ritchie county, the more shallow sand developed in the Wayne, Perry, and Cabell counties, nothing was found below the Berea grit formation. The lower formations were not looked at in other deep tests made over the state. The best that can be said is that the well showed up for the work of a barrel producer with some sand streaks. Ritchie county, the more shallow sand developed in the Wayne, Perry, and Cabell counties, nothing was found below the Berea grit formation. The lower formations were not looked at in other deep tests made over the state. The best that can be said is that the well showed up for the work of a barrel producer with some sand streaks. Ritchie county, the more shallow sand developed in the Wayne, Perry, and Cabell counties, nothing was found below the Berea grit formation. The lower formations were not looked at in other deep tests made over the state. The best that can be said is that the well showed up for the work of a barrel producer with some sand streaks. Ritchie county, the more shallow sand developed in the Wayne, Perry, and Cabell counties, nothing was found below the Berea grit formation. The lower formations were not looked at in other deep tests made over the state. The best that can be said is that the well showed up for the work of a barrel producer with some sand streaks. Ritchie county, the more shallow sand developed in the Wayne, Perry, and Cabell counties, nothing was found below the Berea grit formation. The lower formations were not looked at in other deep tests made over the state. The best that can be said is that the well showed up for the work of a barrel producer with some sand streaks. Ritchie county, the more shallow sand developed in the Wayne, Perry, and Cabell counties, nothing was found below the Berea grit formation. The lower formations were not looked at in other deep tests made over the state. The best that can be said is that the well showed up for the work of a barrel producer with some sand streaks. Ritchie county, the more shallow sand developed in the Wayne, Perry, and Cabell counties, nothing was found below the Berea grit formation. The lower formations were not looked at in other deep tests made over the state. The best that can be said is that the well showed up for the work of a barrel producer with some sand streaks. Ritchie county, the more shallow sand developed in the Wayne, Perry, and Cabell counties, nothing was found below the Berea grit formation. The lower formations were not looked at in other deep tests made over the state. The best that can be said is that the well showed up for the work of a barrel producer with some sand streaks. Ritchie county, the more shallow sand developed in the Wayne, Perry, and Cabell counties, nothing was found below the Berea grit formation. The lower formations were not looked at in other deep tests made over the state. The best that can be said is that the well showed up for the work of a barrel producer with some sand streaks. Ritchie county, the more shallow sand developed in the Wayne, Perry, and Cabell counties, nothing was found below the Berea grit formation. The lower formations were not looked at in other deep tests made over the state. The best that can be said is that the well showed up for the work of a barrel producer with some sand streaks. Ritchie county, the more shallow sand developed in the Wayne, Perry, and Cabell counties, nothing was found below the Berea grit formation. The lower formations were not looked at in other deep tests made over the state. The best that can be said is that the well showed up for the work of a barrel producer with some sand streaks. Ritchie county, the more shallow sand developed in the Wayne, Perry, and Cabell counties, nothing was found below the Berea grit formation. The lower formations were not looked at in other deep tests made over the state. The best that can be said is that the well showed up for the work of a barrel producer with some sand streaks. Ritchie county, the more shallow sand developed in the Wayne, Perry, and Cabell counties, nothing was found below the Berea grit formation. The lower formations were not looked at in other deep tests made over the state. The best that can be said is that the well showed up for the work of a barrel producer with some sand streaks. Ritchie county, the more shallow sand developed in the Wayne, Perry, and Cabell counties, nothing was found below the Berea grit formation. The lower formations were not looked at in other deep tests made over the state. The best that can be said is that the well showed up for the work of a barrel producer with some sand streaks. Ritchie county, the more shallow sand developed in the Wayne, Perry, and Cabell counties, nothing was found below the Berea grit formation. The lower formations were not looked at in other deep tests made over the state. The best that can be said is that the well showed up for the work of a barrel producer with some sand streaks. Ritchie county, the more shallow sand developed in the Wayne, Perry, and Cabell counties, nothing was found below the Berea grit formation. The lower formations were not looked at in other deep tests made over the state. The best that can be said is that the well showed up for the work of a barrel producer with some sand streaks. Ritchie county, the more shallow sand developed in the Wayne, Perry, and Cabell counties, nothing was found below the Berea grit formation. The lower formations were not looked at in other deep tests made over the state. The best that can be said is that the well showed up for the work of a barrel producer with some sand streaks. Ritchie county, the more shallow sand developed in the Wayne, Perry, and Cabell counties, nothing was found below the Berea grit formation. The lower formations were not looked at in other deep tests made over the state. The best that can be said is that the well showed up for the work of a barrel producer with some sand streaks. Ritchie county, the more shallow sand developed in the Wayne, Perry, and Cabell counties, nothing was found below the Berea grit formation. The lower formations were not looked at in other deep tests made over the state. The best that can be said is that the well showed up for the work of a barrel producer with some sand streaks. Ritchie county, the more shallow sand developed in the Wayne, Perry, and Cabell counties, nothing was found below the Berea grit formation. The lower formations were not looked at in other deep tests made over the state.

S.S.S. A PERFECT CURE FOR SCROFULA

Scrofula belongs to the type of disease known as blood poison, and is a trouble usually manifested in childhood. It is often an inherited condition springing from some specific disease of ancestors. The ordinary symptoms of Scrofula are swollen glands about the neck, sores and ulcers on the body, scalp diseases, skin afflictions, weak eyes, poor physical development, etc.

The disease being deeply rooted in the blood, often attacks the bones if the poison is not removed from the circulation, and this should be seriously considered in the case of any child who shows symptoms of having scrofulous blood. Some persons who inherit Scrofula reach maturity before the trouble develops, but being bred in the circulation, the disease is bound to show itself in some form.

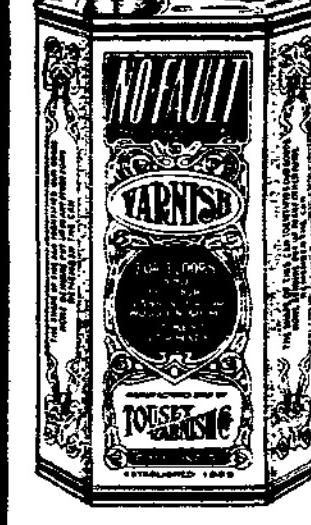

Frequently a debilitating spell of sickness which depletes and weakens the system offers a favorable opportunity for the disease to manifest itself. A thorough cleansing of the blood is the only method of treatment that can be of any value; the scrofulous poison must be removed from the circulation.

S. S. S. has cured thousands of cases of Scrofula. It is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and by going down into the circulation and ridding it of the scrofulous germs, and enriching the blood by the addition of healthful corpuscles, S. S. S. cures the disease permanently, and is perfectly safe for children. If you or your child have any symptoms of Scrofula, begin the use of S. S. S. at once, and get the destructive disease forever removed from the system. Book on the blood, and any medical advice free. S. S. S. is for sale at drug stores.

SEED

Flower and Vegetable
In all Varieties

MILLER'S
12 East Park Place

We will give the best 25 cent Brush on the market with your first purchase of a quart or more of No-Fault Varnish, which we guarantee to be the best Varnish ever put in a can, or your money cheerfully refunded.

No-Fault Varnish will stand the hardest use and withstand abuse better and longer than any other Finish made. For Floors, Furniture and Woods.

Made in colors:-
Clear, Light and Dark Oak,
Mahogany, White Enamel,
Robins Egg Blue Enamel,
Pea Green Enamel, Flat Black
Enamel, Gloss Black Enamel

And a complete graining outfit for refinishing old floors.

COULTER & FLORY
Hardware. 13 W. Main St. Roofing.

The Licking County
Bank &
Trust Co.

You should have an account with this bank.

Be fair with yourself. Give yourself a chance.

Any business will be benefited by the services we offer.

You should resolve to open an account today.

The Newark Board of Trade OFFERS FREE

FACTORY SITES, CHEAP POWER AND FUEL

THE NEWARK BOARD OF TRADE
Newark, Ohio.

BOLTON TRIAL

(Continued from Page 1.)

admits himself guilty of the same crime.

The mere fact that the defendant was in company at any time, even at the time of committing the crime, or persons who committed the crime, would not make him guilty thereof.

If you are satisfied from the evidence of this case that the defendant stood by at the time others committed the crime, or was in their company either while they were preparing for or committing the crime but that he did no overt act in the commission of the crime, that he did not purposely aid or abet those who did commit the crime, then your verdict should be not guilty.

In order to warrant you in finding the defendant guilty of this charge it is necessary for the State to prove beyond a reasonable doubt a purpose or intention upon the part of this defendant to kill Carl Etherington and that to accomplish said purpose he conspired with others or did some overt act or aided or abetted others to commit the crime charged in the indictment.

Even if you find the evidence that the defendant was opposed to the dry detectives and in sympathy with the parties committing this crime that all this would not make him guilty of this crime.

More knowledge upon the part of the defendant of the purpose of others to commit the crime, would not be sufficient for warranting you in finding the defendant guilty of the crime.

You stated in qualifying in this case as jurors, that the defendant's business, even though conducted by him in violation of law, would not prevent you from fair and impartial consideration and determination by you of the question of the defendant's guilt and charge in this indictment and I again caution you that you are not to allow the defendant's business, or the fact that it was unlawful, to govern or prejudice you in any way or in any way prevent you from fair or impartial consideration from the evidence offered.

JUDGE WAIGHT'S ARGUMENT.

Judge J. B. Waight followed Prosecutor Smythe and his eloquent appeal was made to the men in the jury box, not to convict Lewis Bolton on the testimony of Joe Bush. His argument was supplemented, yes sustained, by a terrible characterization of Joe Bush, whom he described as a villain of the "deepest hue," a man who would swear away his hope of eternal salvation in order to save his own worthless life, by attempting to fasten the heinous crime of Carl Etherington's lynching upon Lewis Bolton.

Judge Waight said in regard to Joshua Hull's testimony "I would not insult your intelligence by even asking you if you believed him. He is even worse than Joe Bush, because Bush has a motive and Hull has not. This man Hull has attempted to lie on behalf of the state, and you gentlemen, know he did. He was mistaken, to put it mildly, but he lied. I would not convict a yellow dog on the testimony of such a man as Joshua Hull."

Judge Waight said that no intelligent man could find a verdict of guilty unless it was on account of prejudice against his business. This business, he said, should not be weighed in the scales against this defendant as guilty of the murder of Carl Etherington.

"We admit that he was engaged in this unlawful business of selling liquor, but he had nothing to do with Carl Etherington's murder."

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The court house never held a bigger crowd than that in attendance at the opening session of the Bolton murder trial at 1 o'clock this afternoon. The galleries were packed and many used attorney's privileges to get seats within the bar rail. Never in the history of Knox county's capital has an argument been made which has created the sentiment which the magnificent plea of Judge Waight did.

Through it all the defendant sat, arms folded across his chest, while every eye was upon him during the telling points of his counsel's argument.

ARGUMENT OF ATTORNEY OWENS.

At 1 o'clock Hon. Frank V. Owens began his address to the jury in behalf of Lewis Bolton. As had been said the court room was packed to suffocation while this attorney pleaded with the jury for the life and liberty of a man who, he admitted was a law breaker, but not a murderer. As he said to the jury "gentlemen, we do not deny that Lewis Bolton broke the Rose County Local Option law. We not only do not deny it but we admit it, but when the state attempts to prove that he was guilty of the murder of Carl Etherington we most emphatically deny it. You do not know Joshua Hull. His testimony has been paraded before you and you are asked to believe it. Do you gentlemen? You know as Judge Waight has said he lied and we cannot ask you to go any further than look upon him as he was upon the stand. His confusion told you that he was falsifying.

"Gentlemen, this case comes before you and you will be charged by the court to find Lewis Bolton either guilty or innocent of the crime of the murder of Carl Etherington. You are not here to find Lewis Bolton either guilty or innocent of conducting a saloon in violation of the law. Was he guilty of the murder of Carl Etherington?

That point alone you must decide and upon your verdict the eyes of not only Knox County and Licking, but the entire state will notice if you convict upon the testimony of Joe Bush, a self-admitted murderer, and also upon the evidence of Joshua Hull, who has not even the excuse of Joe Bush, and

Let a Permit to Smoke and win it
5 cents

(Continued from Page 1.)

know they were innocent of this crime and came back to Chicago willingly.

Here, according to laboring men, the Russian police methods were used as the men were taken to Burns' home instead of to jail and constantly sweated. The police on the other hand deny the sweating or other mistreatment but claim McManigal was willing to talk from the start. It is said that the men were watched every minute for the last two months and that Burns' detectives have seen them dynamite recent jobs.

The local police are looking for a woman seen frequently with McNamara, believing that she will make a valuable prosecutor's witness.

Los Angeles, April 24.—Both the police and laborers insist that the trials of the McNamaras and McManigal will be rushed. The chief of police says no others are being watched, but the Burns agency says that more than twenty men will be arrested who have recently been under surveillance.

Feeling here runs high and a bitter outbreak at the trial would surprise no one.

SPED TO LOS ANGELES.

Chicago April 24.—John J. McNamara, secretary-treasurer of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, his brother John B. McNamara, and Ortiz McManigal, the three union men charged with the violent acts done toward Carl Etherington. Whom do you believe, Joe Bush or James R. Fitzgibbon? But I have nothing to say on this point. You know whom you believe. One is a confessed murderer, the other an honored practitioner at the Licking county bar."

Mr. Owens concluded his address at 2:30, after which Mr. Fitzgibbon began the closing address for the defense.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union of Mt. Vernon, probably for its moral effect, attended the trial this afternoon in a body.

Judge Wickham will charge the jury tomorrow morning.

RECREATION FOR

THE BOLTON JURY.
Mt. Vernon, Ohio, April 24.

The jury on Saturday morning visited the Logan natural gas pumping station, the largest in the United States, at Bangs, about five miles south of Mt. Vernon, also the country infirmary, returning at noon to the Curtis House for dinner.

Sunday morning they attended services at the Congregational church, Rev. Ira Houston pastor, and in the evening heard a sermon by Rev. David Francis of the Church of Christ. Baillif Parcell arranged with the ministers that nothing should be said in regard to the trial.

Judge Waight opened the case for the defense followed by Frank Owen and it will be closed by J. R. Fitzgibbon of Newark. The state's case will be opened by Prosecutor Phil B. Smythe and closed by Mr. W. H. Miller.

COST IN THE BOLTON CASE.

Mt. Vernon, April 24.—The trial of the case of Ohio against Louis J. Bolton will cost Licking county a pretty sum of money. Witness fees paid out to date amount to $981.50, and $226 was paid out to men summoned as veniremen and who were not finally selected as jurors. The men who have been serving on the jury have not been paid. They receive $2 per day each, and their expenses. Since they are being kept together their time goes on without any lay-off, as do also their hotel expenses. Since all witnesses normally discharged Friday, it is very probable that all of these have claimed their per diem and mileage, and there will be no further expense in that line. Many of those summoned as witnesses were not used.

Judge Waight opened one side and searched for several minutes without success. Then a "blind" room was discovered, and Detective Burns' key failing to work, a padlock was wrenches from its fastenings. Detective Badorf found that it was impossible to examine the contents of the shed because of the darkness, so a lantern was procured at a nearby house.

A short search revealed the explosive carefully piled in a crudely modelled box, which also was fastened with a padlock.

Chief Myers placed two men in charge of the shed and will keep a constant guard over the place until the Burns agency is ready to move it.

Ortiz McManigal resided here until about two years ago. He served in the Second Ohio regiment through the Spanish war and shortly after his return and marriage removed to Chicago. For the past seven years he has been associated with John J. McNamara in the structural iron business. In such capacity he traveled over the entire country over eing contracts.

They opened one side and searched for several minutes without success. Then a "blind" room was discovered, and Detective Burns' key failing to work, a padlock was wrenches from its fastenings. Detective Badorf found that it was impossible to examine the contents of the shed because of the darkness, so a lantern was procured at a nearby house.

A short search revealed the explosive carefully piled in a crudely modelled box, which also was fastened with a padlock.

Chief Myers placed two men in charge of the shed and will keep a constant guard over the place until the Burns agency is ready to move it.

Ortiz McManigal resided here until about two years ago. He served in the Second Ohio regiment through the Spanish war and shortly after his return and marriage removed to Chicago. For the past seven years he has been associated with John J. McNamara in the structural iron business. In such capacity he traveled over the entire country over eing contracts.

Two weeks ago he and his family visited Tiffin and attended the funeral of a relative at Bloomville. On that occasion he was shadowed by detectives, and it is thought the fact that dynamite was stored here was discovered.

James McManigal, the father of the suspect, when acquainted with his son's predicament, of which he apparently had heard nothing, told of his son's business associations with McNamara, but had no knowledge of any trip to Los Angeles, and he had no recollection of the destruction of the Times building.

He professed confidence in his son's innocence, stating that "Ortiz would do nothing like that." He is not suspected of any implication in the affair.

After visiting the McManigal home

CLAIM CONFESSION WAS MADE

(Continued from Page 1.)

Woodbury's Hair Tonic will do it. WOODBURY'S saves the hair when all other preparations fail. Don't risk your hair by using worthless substitutes. Get Woodbury's and Woodbury's only.

Save Your Hair

WOODBURY'S HAIR TONIC WILL DO IT. WOODBURY'S saves the hair when all other preparations fail. Don't risk your hair by using worthless substitutes. Get Woodbury's and Woodbury's only.

WOODBURY'S HAIR TONIC DOES GROW HAIR.
WOODBURY'S HAIR TONIC DOES CURE DANDRUFF.
WOODBURY'S HAIR TONIC DOES STOP ITCHING.

WOODBURY'S HAIR TONIC CURS. It penetrates down to the hair roots and gives new life to the hair fibers. Results are marked after the first application. Then, let the salve daily, and keep applying. Every bottle is backed up to 1 year's experience.

Three sizes - 25c., 50c., $1.00 sold by all druggists and department stores, in worthless substitutes for drugs. To apply, pour directly on the hair. Woodbury's Hair Tonic is made in New York City. Sold by Frank D. Hall, Smith, Williams, Evans, Crayton & Co., Collins and by all leading druggists and department stores, everywhere.

Don't wait. Get Woodbury's Hair Tonic right away. The Red Cross Pump. You will never regret it.

Get It Today

Don't wait. Get Woodbury's Hair Tonic right away. The Red Cross Pump. You will never regret it.

Get It Today

Don't wait. Get Woodbury's Hair Tonic right away. The Red Cross Pump. You will never regret it.

Get It Today

Don't wait. Get Woodbury's Hair Tonic right away. The Red Cross Pump. You will never regret it.

Get It Today

Don't wait. Get Woodbury's Hair Tonic right away. The Red Cross Pump. You will never regret it.

Get It Today

Don't wait. Get Woodbury's Hair Tonic right away. The Red Cross Pump. You will never regret it.

Get It Today

Don't wait. Get Woodbury's Hair Tonic right away. The Red Cross Pump. You will never regret it.

Get It Today

Don't wait. Get Woodbury's Hair Tonic right away. The Red Cross Pump. You will never regret it.

Get It Today

Don't wait. Get Woodbury's Hair Tonic right away. The Red Cross Pump. You will never regret it.

Get It Today

Don't wait. Get Woodbury's Hair Tonic right away. The Red Cross Pump. You will never regret it.

Get It Today

Don't wait. Get Woodbury's Hair Tonic right away. The Red Cross Pump. You will never regret it.

Get It Today

Don't wait. Get Woodbury's Hair Tonic right away. The Red Cross Pump. You will never regret it.

Get It Today

Don't wait. Get Woodbury's Hair Tonic right away. The Red Cross Pump. You will never regret it.

Get It Today

Don't wait. Get Woodbury's Hair Tonic right away. The Red Cross Pump. You will never regret it.

Get It Today

Don't wait. Get Woodbury's Hair Tonic right away. The Red Cross Pump. You will never regret it.

Weak Lungs
We strongly recommend Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. We believe it prevents, protects, soothes. What does your doctor recommend? Take only the medicine he approves. Trust him every time.

J. C. Ayer Co.,
Lowell, Mass.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—The Fairy's Gift

"She Could See What Every One Was Doing"

THE FAIRY in this story was a wise old fairy, who took delight in doing good to people. She had her home high up in the top of a tree, and the tree itself stood on the top of a high hill. From her little house way up in the branches the fairy could look out and see what all the people in the world were doing, whether they were acting well toward other folks or whether they were mean and selfish."

That is the way daddy began his bedtime story for Jack and Evelyn one evening. Then he went on to say:

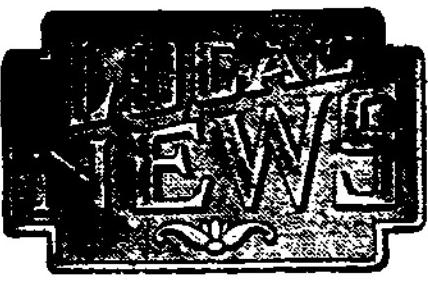

"Whenever the fairy saw any one doing an especially kind thing for another she got into her fairy flying machine—oh, yes, fairies had flying machines long before folks dreamed of such things—and flew over to reward the good deed. What she liked especially was to see folks doing patiently and without complaining the work they had to do. When she saw a poor woman spinning day after day without complaining she would fly over, first making herself invisible, of course, and turn into pure gold the thread which was being spun. Of course that would make the spinner very happy."

"When the fairy saw some poor man digging in the ground she would take a lump of gold and drop it where the worker would be sure to find it. You may imagine his surprise when his spade struck a hard lump which he took to be a stone and when he picked it up to find that it was a lump of gold!"

"But, daddy, the fairy must have been very, very rich to do such things," said Jack.

"Yes, she was," said daddy. "And she found more pleasure in giving her gold away to the poor folks than she would have found in keeping it all for herself. She was fond of children, and she liked especially to help poor little ones who had to work hard. In a country near the fairy's home the children used to be sent out to milk the goats. It was hard work for the little diggers, and the little backs used to ache as the milking pails were filled. Then the fairy would fly over the pails and, splash, down would drop lumps of gold into the milk."

"But, of course, the fairy's gold was, after all, not quite the same as the gold of other folks. It could be used only for good purposes. If any one wished to keep it all for himself or himself or wished to use it for a selfish purpose it would not remain bright, shining, valuable metal, but would change to dull clay, which was worthless. But if it was used worthily it always remained bright and shining and precious and had the power of bringing joy wherever it went."

MASONIC CALENDAR.

Acme Lodge.
Acme Lodge, F. and A. M., Thursday evening, May 11, 7:30 o'clock, regular wor. E. A. degree.

Bigelow Council.

No. 7, R. & S. M., Wednesday evening, May 3, 7:30 p. m. Regular Newark Lodge.

Newark Lodge, No. 97, F. & A. M. Regular, Friday, May 5, at 7:30 p. m.

Warren Chapter, No. 6, R. A. M.
Special convocation Monday, April 24, p. m. Confering degrees and balloting. Stated convocation Monday, May 1.

Dr. A. V. Davis, Dentist.
Teeth extracted without pain. Office 47-C S. Third street, first floor. Phone 384. 10-211f

Why do so many drink Chalybeate Spring Water? There is a reason. Phone for a sample. Office 47-C South Third street. Phone 389.

"Always on the job." White's taxicabs. Immediate service. Both phones. 2-211f

It saves the woman—Buy a Vest Motor Washer. Elliott Hdwe. Co. 4-3-tf

You'll always find White's "always on the job" taxicabs at Kuster & Co.'s restaurant. Both phones, N. 2-25-tf.

Umbrellas recovered and repaired at Parkinson's, Elmwood Court. 4-17-ed-tf

Special Film Feature.

The Mazda has engaged for Tuesday, April 25, "The Tale of Two Cities," adapted from the famous novel of Charles Dickens. This big feature consists of three reels and meets all expectations. Pleasing to young and old. Admission 5c. 21-31.

Farmers.

Fertilize your corn with BASHIMUS BRAND BIG CROP PRODUCTER. A special brand for corn. A HUMUS FILLER is used instead of rock or sand. Come in and examine a sample. Charles C. Stevens, 40 South Second st. 4-15-tf

Hire You a Home?

If not, see Fred C. Evans' advertisement in another column of this paper. Here is your opportunity. 4-15th-df

Attending State Meeting.

Mrs. E. E. Hopkins, Mrs. T. J. Field and Mrs. C. J. Rose, of Granville left Monday for Cleveland to attend the state meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society. Mrs. Hopkins is the treasurer of the association, and will make her annual report. Mrs. Rose is on the program and will read a paper before the meeting.

Squirrel Season.

Among the bills enacted into law at the present session of the Ohio legislature was one fixing the open season for squirrel from September 15 to October 20.

Position at Lakeside.

Lou Van Horn, who has been employed by W. D. Harris, at Buckeye Lake park, on the big improvements being made there, has resign-

Quarter Century Ago

(From Advocate April 24, 1886.) Miss Jeanie Ferguson, daughter of the late William Ferguson, died at her home in the Mt. Vernon road.

Word from Mr. Charles E. Atherton, son of Gibson Atherton, who located in Kansas City to practice law, states that he is pleased with new location. Miss Daisy King is at home on a vacation from Farmington, Mass.

Mr. J. E. Holtz, past foreman of the B. and O., has resigned his position, and will leave in a few days for Minneapolis. The employees presented him with an elegant gold watch.

Fifty Years Ago Today. April 24.

Wild rumors from Washington were afoot in the north and east. It was said that Washington was besieged and even being bombarded, and that eastern residents en route to the capital had failed to reach there.

Twenty-five Years Ago Today.

Jefferson Davis, ex-Confederate president, advocated partnerships between employers and employees to settle labor disputes.

engaged in assisting in the moving of a family from that part of the city to the West End and in lifting a heavy stove it slipped and fell, catching one of his hands and badly crushing it. He was compelled to have it attended to by a physician.

Rummage Sale.
The regular rummage sale begins Wednesday evening, April 26, 27, 28 and 29, in room formerly occupied by Union Market Co., North Park place. 24-3t

For Columbus Monument.

The school children of Columbus have raised $342.36 to aid in the erection of a monument on the state house grounds honoring Christopher Columbus. When all the schools have reported, it is thought that the amount will run considerably over $400.

Southern Tour.

The Flora Opera company, a Newark aggregation, organized here several years ago, left this city Monday morning for El Paso, Texas, where it will give its first concert. From that city the company will go to Phoenix, Arizona.

Lime and sulphur solution for San Jose scale, one gallon makes 12. 3¢ per gallon, at Erman's drug store. 24-26-28

Chicken Supper.

There will be a chicken supper and mock trial at the K. of P. hall, Wednesday, April 26, 1911, for the benefit of A. M. E. church. Tickets good for supper and trial. Admission, 25 cents. 1tx

Who Will Win This?

Haines Bros., the jewelers and opticians, have on display in their show window a handsome silver cup valued at $15.00, which they have offered to the Newark ballplayer making the best general average for the season of 1911.

Knights Templar Inspection.

St. Luke's Commandery, Knights Templar, will be inspected Tuesday night, April 25 by John P. McCune. The order of the Temple and Malta will be conferred. A banquet will follow the ceremony.

Lime and sulphur solution for San Jose scale, one gallon makes 12. 3¢ per gallon, at Erman's drug store. 24-26-28

New Phone Office.

The Newark Telephone company will occupy its new office in the Arcade this week but it will be nearly a month before the new automatic exchange is completed. The new office is finished in marble, of very handsome design. It contains four long-distance booths, cashier's desk and counters. From this room there is an entrance to the new two-story telephone building adjoining the Arcade. Toledo and Mansfield.

Birth Announcement.

Colonel and Mrs. M. M. Gillett of Smethport, Pa., a daughter. The little one has been christened Philis Katherine.

TRUTH CROPS OUT

Why the Sufferers So Often Fail to Get Relief.

ABE MARTIN SAYS:

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

+

The SECRET of GIVING

by PARKER H. FILLMORE

FOR this Christmas I have an idea!"
"But before I give you my plan I'm going to read you a story. It's a beautiful story, one that the General Library Association recommends and one that our own club places first on its list of holiday books for children. It was on the committee selecting the children's books, and that's how I found it."

"It is called 'The Birds' Christmas Carol.'

She went through the opening of the pretty story without comment; then, when she reached Carol's proposal to give a Christmas treat to the big family of poor children who lived "in the rear," the Blair mother closed the book on her finger and turned to her own children with an eager, questioning smile.

"Now don't you think it was lovely of Carol wanting to share her Christmas with the poor Ruggles family?" The Blair mother's eyes traveled from child to child until finally they rested on Margery, upon whom, therefore, devolved the duty of making some sort of answer.

"Yes, mother, but please go on. You're nearly to the place about the Ruggleses getting ready and 'the Ruggles teachin' em manners."

"You're going to finish it, isn't you, mother?"

Under the circumstances the Blair mother had not intended to finish the story, but, remembering the plan for which the story was to be an introduction, she made a martyr of herself and continued. The laughter and tears which her reading excited restored her self-possession and by the time she was through she was once more in a mood to broach her Christmas plan.

"Don't you think it would be beautiful if, this Christmas, we made some poor, deserving family as happy as dear Little Carol made the Ruggleses?"

"Give 'em dinner?" Henry asked.

"No, Henry. I had not thought of a dinner. Merely feeding the poor is a mistake too often made. Many of them have enough to eat. What they want more than food are the extra things, the pretty things that other people have. I've always thought that this was the very secret of giving which most people miss."

"But the Ruggleses liked the eating," Henry insisted. "They had a bully time."

"Ah, but that's a story! What we're speaking of is real life." Henry subsided and the Blair mother drew forth some loose sheets of paper.

"Now I want each of you to make a list of three things you want most for Christmas. Not impossible things like automobiles, but such things as you know I can afford to buy. If I find the first thing you put down too expensive, I'll get the second or third. And perhaps I'll be able to get the whole list."

On the face of it this seemed a promise that they were to be given for Christmas the things they wanted. But experience had made them cautious of putting on their mother's words their own interpretation. So each of the four regarded pencil and paper suspiciously.

"You're so slow, Henry. What's the matter? Don't you know what you want?"

Henry knew well enough and, thus importuned, wrote out his list: "Five-bladed knife, IXL steel; new sweater; pair ice skates."

The twins' list being, as usual, identical, appeared on one sheet: "Two burnt leather hand bags; two strings blue beads (you know the kind); two changeable silk parasols."

Margery was longest at the actual work of writing. When her list was done it read thus: "Roller skets; roller skets; roller skets."

"Margery," her mother protested, "you've asked for the same thing three times."

"Yes, mother, because that's what I want and I don't want you to get me anything else instead."

The Blair mother folded the papers and placed them securely in her belt.

"And now for my idea: You all know Mrs. Feldhaus, the decent German woman who does our washing. She's poor and a widow, and has four children. I asked her and she told me. Now don't you think it would be beautiful if we gave those four children the best Christmas they've ever had?"

"You mean have 'em here for dinner like Carol did?"

"No, Henry, I told you before I didn't mean that. Judging from appearances, Mrs. Feldhaus is well nourished and does not need a dinner. But I thought it would be lovely if we gave her children the same sort of things that we ourselves like to get for Christmas. Don't you understand now?" The Blair mother looked at them with a smile of bright expectancy. But they did not understand.

"I think," Henry persisted, "that the Feldhaus kids would like a big dinner—turkey, mince-pie and things better'n anything else. I know I would."

"Well, Henry dear, I think you're wrong, and I think, when the time comes, you'll realize you are. Meanwhile I have my plan."

"Oh, what a pleasant surprise we're going to give those poor Feldhaus children," the Blair mother kept exclaiming as, on the eventful day immediately after an early lunch, they prepared to start. "I wish you could have seen Mrs. Feldhaus's gratitude when I told her to make no preparations for this Christmas as we were going to do everything for her. Now, Henry, you take those two packages and we'll manage the rest."

They found Mrs. Feldhaus just home from work and breathless in her haste to "clean up" before their arrival.

"You got to excuse appearances, Mis' Blair," she began, volubly, dusting a chair with her apron. "But I been so workin' out, and Elsie—she ain't very strong."

"That is all right, Mrs. Feldhaus. No apologies are necessary. We haven't come to see your rooms but to bring you a few presents which we hope will make you and the children very happy this Christmas."

"Oh, you're awful kind, Mis' Blair."

"Don't thank me," the Blair mother protested. "Thank the children. It was their idea as much as mine. They agree with me that people too seldom give what they themselves would like to receive. This time we are not going to make that mistake, are we, children? And it was fortunate, Mrs. Feldhaus, that you, like me, have just four children."

"Yes, Mis' Blair. And Harry and Eddie are twins, too. Now ain't that funny? I think I hear 'em comin' now."

There was a stampede on the stairs outside and presently two lanky, overgrown boys, somewhat larger than Henry, burst into the room. Once inside they grew painfully conscious of feet and hands and hovered awkwardly near the door.

"Ain't you two got no manners?" their mother demanded sharply. "Can't you say 'Hod do' to Mis' Blair? Go up and shake hands with her!"

Harry and Eddie stumbled across the floor and held out two cold, lifeless paws. Their embarrassment was relieved by the entrance from another room of a little girl and a baby. The girl was thin and fragile and walked with a painful limp. The baby, too, was pale and unhealthy looking.

A faint flush had crept into the Blair mother's cheeks. "I—I fear, Mrs. Feldhaus, that some of the things I've brought are not quite suited to your children. I forgot to ask you their ages and sex."

"That's all right, Mis' Blair, don't you worry. We like everything, don't we, children?"

The first objects disclosed were a pair of roller skates. "Oh, now, Mis' Blair, ain't that a shame! Them would just fit Elsie only she's lame. She got her foot twisted something awful when she was born. Show Mis' Blair your lame foot, Elsie."

The next package was another pair of roller skates. This time the only comment Mrs. Feldhaus made was a started "Oh, Mis' Blair."

"She was reassured by a sweater which would be just the thing for Harry or Eddie, and the boys themselves were thrown into ecstasies at the sight of a large, many-bladed pocket-knife.

A pair of boy's ice skates aroused very little enthusiasm. For Mrs. Feldhaus herself there were half a dozen small, fine, initial handkerchiefs.

Little Elsie made a faint exclamation of pleasure over a long strand of blue beads; but when the first strand was followed by a second, identically the same, Elsie was silent and her mother gave out a grunt of increasing astonishment and disappointment. A burnt leather hand bag decorated with Indian heads was received in ominous quiet. A second burnt leather hand bag drew forth from Mrs. Feldhaus a sharp, indignant, "Oh, Gee!"

There was an unmistakable change taking place in Mrs. Feldhaus. From the flustered grateful creature of the first moments of their visit she was fast becoming a red-faced, angry woman. When the package before the last, the long, slender one, disclosed two shimmering silk parasols, she threw discretion to the winds and gave way to what she herself would call "sass."

"Oh, now ain't them just too sweet! They're just what Elsie needs—one for one hand and one for the other. They'll be so nice to keep her warm and dry all winter. Speak up, Elsie, and tell the lady how kind she is. You didn't want no nice shoes, or no nice dress, or no warm coat. All you needed for winter was some nice roller skates and parasols. If they're anything what little lame girls what can't run around much does enjoy it's roller skates. And what do you think's in that last package, Elsie? Another pair of roller skates, maybe. Wouldn't that be nice?"

The Blair mother was beginning to tremble, but, as though hypnotized, she continued to undo what actually was a third pair of roller skates. Even her own children, who had been living through an anguished nightmare on their own account, were astounded.

"My God, Elsie!" Mrs. Feldhaus shouted. "It is skates!" As she spoke, it came over her that this was the last package that there was nothing more coming, and she collapsed in her chair weak with disappointment and anger.

"Where—where?" she stammered, "where's the Christmas dinner you promised us?"

"Mrs. Feldhaus, I think you forget yourself," the Blair mother said, rising with dignity. "I promised you dinner."

"Oh, you liar! You liar!" the other shouted, her face now purple with rage. "Harry! Eddie! Elsie! Did you hear that? She's got the cheek to tell me in my own house that she never promised me no Christmas dinner!" The liar! When she knows she says, just like this, 'Don't you make no preparations for Christmas this year, Mis' Feldhaus,' cause me and the children are going to do everything for you!" Didn't you say that now? Didn't you? I dare you to deny it! I double dare you!"

The Blair mother was beginning to tremble, but, as though hypnotized, she continued to undo what actually was a third pair of roller skates. Even her own children, who had been living through an anguished nightmare on their own account, were astounded.

"The twins' hat being, as usual, identical, appeared on one sheet: "Two burnt leather hand bags; two strings blue beads (you know the kind); two changeable silk parasols."

Margery was longest at the actual work of writing. When her list was done it read thus: "Roller skets; roller skets; roller skets."

"Margery," her mother protested, "you've asked for the same thing three times."

"Yes, mother, because that's what I want and I don't want you to get me anything else instead."

The Blair mother folded the papers and placed them securely in her belt.

"And now for my idea: You all know Mrs. Feldhaus, the decent German woman who does our washing. She's poor and a widow, and has four children. I asked her and she told me. Now don't you think it would be beautiful if we gave those four children the best Christmas they've ever had?"

"You mean have 'em here for dinner like Carol did?"

"No, Henry, I told you before I didn't mean that. Judging from appearances, Mrs. Feldhaus is well nourished and does not need a dinner. But I thought it would be lovely if we gave her children the same sort of things that we ourselves like to get for Christmas. Don't you understand now?" The Blair mother looked at them with a smile of bright expectancy. But they did not understand.

"I think," Henry persisted, "that the Feldhaus kids would like a big dinner—turkey, mince-pie and things better'n anything else. I know I would."

"Well, Henry dear, I think you're wrong, and I think, when the time comes, you'll realize you are. Meanwhile I have my plan."

"Oh, what a pleasant surprise we're going to give those poor Feldhaus children," the Blair mother kept exclaiming as, on the eventful day immediately after an early lunch, they prepared to start. "I wish you could have seen Mrs. Feldhaus's gratitude when I told her to make no preparations for this Christmas as we were going to do everything for her. Now, Henry, you take those two packages and we'll manage the rest."

They found Mrs. Feldhaus just home from work and breathless in her haste to "clean up" before their arrival.

"You got to excuse appearances, Mis' Blair," she began, volubly, dusting a chair with her apron. "But I been so workin' out, and Elsie—she ain't very strong."

"That is all right, Mrs. Feldhaus. No apologies are necessary. We haven't come to see your rooms but to bring you a few presents which we hope will make you and the children very happy this Christmas."

"Oh, you're awful kind, Mis' Blair."

"Don't thank me," the Blair mother protested. "Thank the children. It was their idea as much as mine. They agree with me that people too seldom give what they themselves would like to receive. This time we are not going to make that mistake, are we, children? And it was fortunate, Mrs. Feldhaus, that you, like me, have just four children."

"Yes, Mis' Blair. And Harry and Eddie are twins, too. Now ain't that funny? I think I hear 'em comin' now."

There was a stampede on the stairs outside and presently two lanky, overgrown boys, somewhat larger than Henry, burst into the room. Once inside they grew painfully conscious of feet and hands and hovered awkwardly near the door.

"Ain't you two got no manners?" their mother demanded sharply. "Can't you say 'Hod do' to Mis' Blair? Go up and shake hands with her!"

Harry and Eddie stumbled across the floor and held out two cold, lifeless paws. Their embarrassment was relieved by the entrance from another room of a little girl and a baby. The girl was thin and fragile and walked with a painful limp. The baby, too, was pale and unhealthy looking.

A faint flush had crept into the Blair mother's cheeks. "I—I fear, Mrs. Feldhaus, that some of the things I've brought are not quite suited to your children. I forgot to ask you their ages and sex."

"That's all right, Mis' Blair, don't you worry. We like everything, don't we, children?"

The first objects disclosed were a pair of roller skates. "Oh, now, Mis' Blair, ain't that a shame! Them would just fit Elsie only she's lame. She got her foot twisted something awful when she was born. Show Mis' Blair your lame foot, Elsie."

The next package was another pair of roller skates. This time the only comment Mrs. Feldhaus made was a started "Oh, Mis' Blair."

"She was reassured by a sweater which would be just the thing for Harry or Eddie, and the boys themselves were thrown into ecstasies at the sight of a large, many-bladed pocket-knife.

A pair of boy's ice skates aroused very little enthusiasm. For Mrs. Feldhaus herself there were half a dozen small, fine, initial handkerchiefs.

Little Elsie made a faint exclamation of pleasure over a long strand of blue beads; but when the first strand was followed by a second, identically the same, Elsie was silent and her mother gave out a grunt of increasing astonishment and disappointment. A burnt leather hand bag decorated with Indian heads was received in ominous quiet. A second burnt leather hand bag drew forth from Mrs. Feldhaus a sharp, indignant, "Oh, Gee!"

There was an unmistakable change taking place in Mrs. Feldhaus. From the flustered grateful creature of the first moments of their visit she was fast becoming a red-faced, angry woman. When the package before the last, the long, slender one, disclosed two shimmering silk parasols, she threw discretion to the winds and gave way to what she herself would call "sass."

"Oh, now, Mis' Blair, ain't that a shame! Them would just fit Elsie only she's lame. She got her foot twisted something awful when she was born. Show Mis' Blair your lame foot, Elsie."

The next package was another pair of roller skates. This time the only comment Mrs. Feldhaus made was a started "Oh, Mis' Blair."

"She was reassured by a sweater which would be just the thing for Harry or Eddie, and the boys themselves were thrown into ecstasies at the sight of a large, many-bladed pocket-knife.

A pair of boy's ice skates aroused very little enthusiasm. For Mrs. Feldhaus herself there were half a dozen small, fine, initial handkerchiefs.

Little Elsie made a faint exclamation of pleasure over a long strand of blue beads; but when the first strand was followed by a second, identically the same, Elsie was silent and her mother gave out a grunt of increasing astonishment and disappointment. A burnt leather hand bag decorated with Indian heads was received in ominous quiet. A second burnt leather hand bag drew forth from Mrs. Feldhaus a sharp, indignant, "Oh, Gee!"

There was an unmistakable change taking place in Mrs. Feldhaus. From the flustered grateful creature of the first moments of their visit she was fast becoming a red-faced, angry woman. When the package before the last, the long, slender one, disclosed two shimmering silk parasols, she threw discretion to the winds and gave way to what she herself would call "sass."

"Oh, now, Mis' Blair, ain't that a shame! Them would just fit Elsie only she's lame. She got her foot twisted something awful when she was born. Show Mis' Blair your lame foot, Elsie."

The next package was another pair of roller skates. This time the only comment Mrs. Feldhaus made was a started "Oh, Mis' Blair."

"She was reassured by a sweater which would be just the thing for Harry or Eddie, and the boys themselves were thrown into ecstasies at the sight of a large, many-bladed pocket-knife.

A pair of boy's ice skates aroused very little enthusiasm. For Mrs. Feldhaus herself there were half a dozen small, fine, initial handkerchiefs.

Little Elsie made a faint exclamation of pleasure over a long strand of blue beads; but when the first strand was followed by a second, identically the same, Elsie was silent and her mother gave out a grunt of increasing astonishment and disappointment. A burnt leather hand bag decorated with Indian heads was received in ominous quiet. A second burnt leather hand bag drew forth from Mrs. Feldhaus a sharp, indignant, "Oh, Gee!"

There was an unmistakable change taking place in Mrs. Feldhaus. From the flustered grateful creature of the first moments of their visit she was fast becoming a red-faced, angry woman. When the package before the last, the long, slender one, disclosed two shimmering silk parasols, she threw discretion to the winds and gave way to what she herself would call "sass."

"Oh, now, Mis' Blair, ain't that a shame! Them would just fit Elsie only she's lame. She got her foot twisted something awful when she was born. Show Mis' Blair your lame foot, Elsie."

The next package was another pair of roller skates. This time the only comment Mrs. Feldhaus made was a started "Oh, Mis' Blair."

"She was reassured by a sweater which would be just the thing for Harry or Eddie, and the boys themselves were thrown into ecstasies at the sight of a large, many-bladed pocket-knife.

A pair of boy's ice skates aroused very little enthusiasm. For Mrs. Feld

MONTHLY REPORT NEWARK LIBRARY

Following is the monthly report of the Newark Public Library from March 26th to April 17:

Cash on hand March 29.....	$ 2.06
Received from fines and losses fees.....	11.81
Total receipts.....	$ 13.87
Expenditures.....	7.50
Cash on hand April 17.....	$ 6.67
Circulation of adult fiction for the month.....	1627
Circulation of juvenile fiction for the month.....	1567
Circulation of non-fiction for the month.....	565
Total circulation.....	3759
Highest daily circulation.....	284
Lowest daily circulation.....	70
Average daily circulation.....	147
Number of new patrons for the month.....	86
Number of books borrowed by the library staff.....	221
Number of books accessioned.....	299

Notable among the gifts of the month was the tenth volume of the Catholic Encyclopedia. This encyclopedia, consisting of 15 volumes, is being given by the Knights of Columbus; 14 volumes of Harper's Weekly, bound, and the History of Freemasonry, 4 volumes, were given by Mrs. A. H. Peterson; an Atlas of Licking county, which has been long desired by the Library, was given by Miss Alice Dennis. The What-so-ever Circle of The King's Daughters subscribed for their official magazine, The Silver Cross, to be placed upon the magazine rack. Mrs. William Kellenger gave 3 volumes, The World's Great Events; The Licking Light and Power Co. furnished a Tungsten light for the reading room. Other donations were as follows: Mrs. Hannah Alcott, $1; Mrs. Richard Shide, $1; a friend, $1; Mr. Riley, 25¢; Dr. Turner, 14 volumes, miscellany; Miss Lisle, 2 vols.; Miss Mackay, 1 vol.; Harold Reeson, 1 vol.; Mr. Merrill Montgomery, 2 vols.; Mrs. Floyd, 2 vols.; Miss Hazel Armstrong, magazines; Mr. Daniel Thomas, 1 vol.; Miss Laura Stough, 1 vol.; Mrs. Hugh Ewing, 1 vol.; Mrs. Steel, magazines; Mrs. Jennie Cool, 3 vols.; Mr. Simkins, 1 vol.; Mrs. Waters, 1 vol.; Warren Welant, Jr., 8 vols.; Eugene Bader, 2 vols.; Mrs. W. C. Miller, 1 vol.; Mrs. James Thomas, magazines.

Effort is constantly being made to make the Public Library a reference library. During the past winter not a week has gone by but teachers and pupils, not only from Newark schools, but schools from neighboring towns, have worked in the reference room. Requests for books not in the Library will be given consideration. A Request Book is kept at the Loan desk and readers are asked to recommend books or to suggest subjects which are not found covered by the Library.

Library and Reading Room open daily from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

ELIZA J. RANKIN, Librarian.

JACKSTOWN

Mrs. William Wallace was the charming hostess to the members of her Sunday school class on Saturday night at her home east of town. The young ladies organized their class, electing officers and naming their organization, The Sunbeam Band. The following guests spent the night with Mrs. Wallace and attended Sunday school at Fairmount on Sunday morning: Charlie Beard, Helen Lewis, Mary Franks, Roy Cochran, Doris Orr, Reba Jury, Lila Orr, Hazel Davis, Helen and Mabel Wallace.

A number of our local people will give an entertainment at the hall on Saturday night, April 29. An interesting program, composed of readings and music, will be given. The Snuggets Family and the District School at Blueberry Corners is being prepared.

The admission, 15 cents.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Franks entertained at dinner Sunday William Wallace and family, Miss Emma Wallace, Mrs. Glennie Lewis and daughter Helen.

Miss Grace Osburn spent her Easter holidays with friends in Columbus.

Miss Goldie Carlton of Newark spent Saturday and Sunday at her home in the village.

The Ladies Aid of Fairmount church was entertained by Mrs. Charles Bounds at her home near Buckeye Lake on Thursday.

Miss Mary Osburn visited the latter part of the week in Newark with her cousin, Rose Osburn.

Ralph Davis and Chadwin Jury made a business trip to Newark Tuesday.

Mrs. Clarence Rutledge has returned home after a pleasant visit in Columbus with her sister, Mrs. Frank Beard.

Mrs. James Allen of Westerville and N. S. A. J. Green visited Monday with Mrs. A. B. Gray.

Vera Beard and family spent Sunday with Mrs. Harvey Fulls.

Miss Chr. Arnold is unable to teach her school this week, being confined to her home with an attack of measles.

A delightful surprise was given on Mrs. Little McFarland, it being her birthday anniversary. After spending the evening in social chat a sumptuous and delicious supper was served in four courses. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Conahan, Mrs. Mary Campbell, Miss Mary Osburn, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Osborne and family. Mr. and Mrs. Ben L. Win, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Cow, Miss Still's Swan, Mr. William Williams, Miss Leslie Baker, Miss Evelyn Ashton, of Brazil, Mr. Robert Campbell, Messrs. William Edward and Allen McFarland and Mrs. Little McFarland.

The younger a man is the more he thinks he knows about women.

ARE TRYING TO REFORM RECORD

Clark and Murdock Want It to Be Accurate.

REALLY NEEDS AN EDITOR.

Under "Leave to Print" Speeches Are Included That Are Never Heard on the Floor—Hamilton and Jefferson Are to Have Memorials to Cost the Government $100,000 Each.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, April 24.—(Special)—Clark of Florida and Murdock of Kansas are going to make names for themselves in reforming the Congressional Record, making it a real record of what takes place in the house instead of loaded with "leave to print" speeches. The abuse has been notorious, and often speeches having no relevancy to the subject under consideration are injected into the Record as having been spoken in debate.

What the Congressional Record needs is a real good editor. He wouldn't hold his position long, for when he insisted that the Record should show a lively debate with unparliamentary language he would find it "withheld for revision," and when it appeared all traces of the scrap would be eliminated.

Then, again, a man may hold out a speech indefinitely, and congress and the country waits until he has made up his mind just what he ought to have said instead of what he actually did say. They ought to make every speech appear the next day after it is delivered and let the revision take place afterward.

Prohibition Creeping Up.

Congressmen from prohibition states are trying to find a method by which a law which will satisfy the constitutional requirements can be passed to really prohibit importation of liquors into prohibition territory. If such a measure is ever passed it will go a long way toward solving the efficacy of prohibition. It is the shipment of liquors into prohibition states which makes it impossible to enforce prohibition laws.

Congressman Webb of North Carolina, a good lawyer who has given a great deal of attention to the subject, has introduced a bill which he thinks will meet all constitutional objections. It has been cleverly drawn so as to avoid former pitfalls.

Hamilton and Jefferson.

The fathers of two schools of politics in America are to have statues in Washington if the house is as courteous as the senate. Senator Bacon celebrated the birthday of Thomas Jefferson by putting through a bill to erect a statue to Thomas Jefferson and providing $100,000 for the purpose. He did not get it passed until Senator Lodge had practically made terms for a like bill for Alexander Hamilton. Thus two founders of political thought in America are to be honored.

When those bills were received in the house it was interesting to note the applause on the Democratic side at the mention of Jefferson. Then followed the announcement of the Hamilton bill, and the Republicans applauded. As John Sharp Williams once said, "We are boys grown up." That is the way it appeared when the two parties thought it necessary to make an unusual demonstration over those men of long ago.

They Talk of Wilson.

While it is natural that many members of the house would prefer Champ Clark for president, yet it is apparent that the trend of southern sentiment is toward Governor Wilson of New Jersey.

"If Wilson comes through," is a remark often heard, "he will make the ideal Democratic nominee next year."

It is strange that there should not be more talk about Harmon, as the Ohio man seems to be very loyal, and there are eastern Democrats who think he would make the best candidate.

Useless Commissions.

The senate is really becoming ashamed of the fact that it has so many commissioners of one kind or another now. Senator Cummins has introduced a bill to abolish the monetary commission, one which has become a refuge for senators who have been laid on the shelf for one reason or another. The senators, more than a half dozen in number, continue to draw salaries at the same rate as when they were members of the senate.

Fitzgerald's Scheme.

"I am going to adopt the same scheme that was used by George Beavers in the postoffice department," said Congressman Fitzgerald of New York, chairman of the committee on appropriations.

"Beavers," continued Fitzgerald, "always had a large number of men in his office, and the fellow who was next in line took the chair near his desk. As Beavers would turn toward him the man would grab the arms of the chair and start to titch up closer for a confidential chat. But Beavers had that particular chair nailed to the floor, and it could not budge. He didn't want confidential communications. I am going to adopt that plan for this office."

Get Out And Get Busy

Big piano and furniture manufacturers use Marietta finishes.

BECAUSE THEY LOVE US? NO.
BECAUSE IT'S SOUND BUSINESS POLICY.

It gives beauty, durability, salability to their product. They know we are specialists—beauty doctors in wood. Given a certain wood surface, we produce its affinity.

Years of leadership in this field preceded our introduction of unique among wood finishes for practical use. A varnish stain for refinishing floors, doors, woodwork, furniture.

SPARTAN STAIN

Spartan Stain differs from most finishes for which similar claims are made, that it is a practical—not a pretty theory. Not a plaything, but an article in this: PRACTICAL PAINTERS that turns useful work into interesting APPROVE IT. They recognize at once pastime.

Ready mixed; ready to wear. The most inexperienced person can apply it with ease. It's fun; fun in which there's the satisfaction of accomplishment. The joy of the artist in achieving the beautiful.

Spartan Stain flows freely and evenly; does not lap. It gives a hard, lasting luster that stubbornly resists wear. Reproduces any kind or color of wood. With one of our staining outfits you can do wonders with it. Get one and get busy.

AURORA MIXED PAINT

A pure lead, linseed oil paint—evolved after many years of study and experiment. Like all Marietta made goods, it is practical. Try it. Judge it by yards of surface covered; years of service rendered; not price.

SPARTAN ART WALL FINISH—A superb flat finish for walls, ceilings and the interior wood-work of public buildings. Elastic, easy flowing as oil paint. Sets slowly, no lapsing. Gives a dainty, durable velvet finish. A score of exquisite tints to choose from. Made of non-poisonous materials.

Everything Painters and Interior Decorators Use
The Marietta Paint & Color Company
General Office 28 Arcade—R. S. McKay, Manager

Just received, a handsome line of new Spring Long Coats.

Special Sale on Children's Spring Hats and Bonnets.

T. L. DAVIES

THE UP-TO-DATE DRY GOODS STORE AND LADIES' AND CHILDREN'S READY-TO-WEAR GARMENTS

Great Housekeepers' Sale

Is Drawing the Crowds—Prices Explain Why We Are Continually Crowded.

TOMORROW SPECIALS.

75c, 72 inches wide. Half Bleached Pure Linen Table Damask, for ..... 48c a yard
35c Fine Bleached Mercerized Table Damask for ..... 25c a yard
29c Turkey Red Table Damask, for ..... 19c a yard
$1.25 Full Size White Bedspreads ..... 98c
45c Ruffled Muslin Curtains, for ..... 29c a pair
$1.50 Couch Covers, extra large and heavy, for 98c

Nottingham Lace Curtains

We are offering extraordinary values at 50c, 75c, $1.00, $1.25 and $1.50 a pair.

5c Cotton Towels, tomorrow for ..... 42c a dozen
12 1/2c, 36 inches wide, Swiss and Madras Draperies, for ..... 10c a yard
12 1/2c, 36 inches wide, Plain and Figured Silks, for ..... 9c a yard

Ladies' House Dresses

Special offering tomorrow in Ladies' Dresses, made of Percales, Ginghams, Linens and Foulards, at $1.25, $1.75, $2.50, $2.75 and $2.98. All made in the latest styles elegantly trimmed full width, in all sizes.

SPECIAL PRICES TOMORROW—On Ladies' Tailored Suits, Long Coats, Skirts, Silk Coats, Silk Dresses, Silk Shirt Waists and Lingerie Waists, White Embroidery Dresses, Kimonos, Dressing Sacques, Wash Skirts, Children's Ready-made Dresses and Children's Spring Jackets.

If you wish to make your dollars pay, come and examine our offerings.

IT IS PRACTICAL ECONOMY TO BUY AT

T. L. DAVIES

One Price, Strictly Cash.
15 South Third Street.

NEWAR, OHIO

Saturday's Demonstration Taxed Our Capacity

Rather than talk about ourselves, we shall CONTINUE TO DEMONSTRATE our ABILITY TO UNDERSELL and thus force YOU to talk about us. WE ARE NOT SELLING ADVICE, but good, up-to-date Spring Footwear. CONTINUATION OF UNDERSELLING WITH A VENGEANCE this week.

NOT LIVING ON REPUTATION BUT MAKING REPUTATION

Just a very few NEWARK BARGAIN SHOE STORE SPECIALS for all this week

LADIES' OXFORDS, SANDALS AND SHOES. Patent and kid, guaranteed all solid, $1.50 and $1.75 grades.

UNDERSELLING PRICE.....

98c

LADIES' OXFORDS, SANDALS AND SHOES. Patent, gun metal and kid; new, fresh spring goods, $1.75 to $2.00 grades.

UNDERSELLING PRICE.....

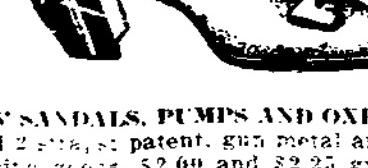

1.24

LADIES' SANDALS, PUMPS AND OXFORDS. One and 2 pairs, patent, gun metal and kid; new spring goods, $2.00 and $2.25 grades.

UNDERSELLING PRICE.....

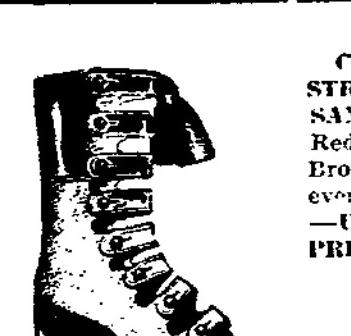

1.48

CHILDREN'S 6-STRAP ROMAN SANDALS—White, Red, Black and Brown Tops. Sells everywhere at $1.50

UNDERSELLING PRICE—

98c

UNDERSELLING PRICE.....

1.24

BOYS' SHOES AND OXFORDS. Box calf and kid, guaranteed all solid, $1.50 grades.

UNDERSELLING PRICE.....

98c

LOWEST PRICES OUR CHIEF ATTRACTION

NEWARK BARGAIN SHOE STORE

27 C

JESUS NO LONGER A MAN

Since His Resurrection He Is
"The Lord of Glory."

Begotten and Born of the Spirit,
"Put to Death in Flesh, Quicken in Spirit."

London, April 23.—Pastor Russell preached in London Tabernacle today to a crowded house. His theme was the resurrected Lord, no longer a man, but ascended where he was before—made partaker of the divine nature. His text was, "He was put to death in flesh, but quickened in spirit" (1 Peter iii. 18). The speaker said:

In the past those of us who continued to believe in the resurrection of the dead, held some inconsistent theories respecting the matter which served to make the resurrection doctrine the more absurd in the minds of those opposed. For instance, we claimed that the Logos, the Son of God, left the heavenly or spirit nature and, according to the Scriptures, was made flesh; and that He was resurrected from the dead a human or fleshly being and ascended to heaven with a body of flesh.

In the same breath we acknowledged that human nature is a little lower than the angelic; and thus, while still wishing to honor the Redeemer and to see wisdom and love in the Heavenly Father's Plan, we assumed that the Savior, since His ascension, has had a body inferior to that of the angels and out of harmony with His surroundings; and that this is to be all eternity a part of the cost of human redemption.

How absurd! Do not the Scriptures particularly tell us that in His resurrection the Son was highly exalted by the Father, far above angels, principalities and powers and every name that is named? Do they not tell us that "flesh and blood cannot inherit the Kingdom of God?" Do they not tell us that the elect Church, in order to be the Bride of Messiah and His associate in the heavenly Kingdom, must be "changed," in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye?" In order that she may be made like Him, and because "flesh and blood cannot inherit the Kingdom?" We have been too careless in our study of the Divine Word. On this subject, as upon others, we have assumed that our forefathers of the "Dark Ages" understood the matter thoroughly. We forgot that those who lost so much of the Holy Spirit that they could burn fellow-Christians at the stake were quite likely to be more or less confused on all questions. But "the path of the just is as a shining light, shining more and more unto the perfect day," and it is now our privilege to learn the way of the Lord more perfectly, in the light now shining upon the Bible through the aid of our wonderful concordances and other Bible study helps.

Begotten of the Spirit—Then Born.

Our difficulty on this subject arose from our failure to understand that human and spirit natures are distinct, and that God has provided two distinctly different salvations for mankind—the salvation of this Age being exclusively spiritual, while that of the next Age will be exclusively human. We are not to think of these natures as blending, but, according to the Lord's Word, we are to view them as distinctly separate. Whoever is of the human nature is earthly, fleshly, whether perfect or degraded. Whoever is of the spirit nature is heavenly, whether perfect or degraded. Thus, when the Logos was made flesh and dwelt among us, He was human, though unblemished. And the fallen angels are still spirit beings, although cut off from Divine favor and fellowship. In other words, human nature is not an imperfect form of spirit nature but a totally separate and distinct nature.

The Logos, the Only Begotten of the Father, "was made flesh" (John i. 14). He was not a spirit being incarcerated in a body of flesh and wearing it as a garment, or living in it as a house. He became like others of the race, except that "He was holy, harmless, separate from sinners," while all others are sinners, imperfect. Like other men, the man Jesus was not a dual being—a spirit being living in a human frame. He was merely human.

But the Redeemer became a dual being when He received the begetting of the Holy Spirit at the time of His baptism. Thenceforth, for three and a half years, until His crucifixion, He was dual. The flesh was the same; but the spirit-begetting received from the Father constituted Him a new Logos, a new person. He not only thereafter had new hopes, based upon Divine promises, but He had a new mind or new will specially illuminated, quickened, enlightened by the Holy Spirit. From the time of His baptism, His flesh fell that belonged to His human nature was given up to die in the carrying out of the Heavenly Father's purposes. Thenceforth the Spirit begotten One waited merely for the accomplishment of His sacrifice according to the Father's will, and for a new body, a glorious spirit body, in the resurrection—His completing or perfecting as a New Creature.

Three and One-half Years Our Lord Was a Dual Being.

Hence, during the period of our Lord's ministry, for three and a half years, He was a dual personage. So far as form and organism were concerned He was a man, but so far as mind and purpose and interests were concerned He was changed—a New Creature, a spirit being; earthly things had passed away. The New Creature followed the instructions of the Divine Word and providences to the extent of mortifying the flesh—surrendering it fully for the accomplishment in it of the Divine will. "The cup which My Father hath pour'd for Me shall I not drink it?"

The great Teacher Himself gives us the picture of a human birth as illustrating the experiences through which He passed and the similar experiences through which all of His faithful followers must pass in order to reach the plane of heavenly glory. This picture contains three distinctive views—(1) begetting—(2) quickening—(3) birth. These three steps were illustrated by our Lord's own experiences. He was begotten of the Holy Spirit at the time of His consecration at baptism. He was quickened or energized by that Holy Spirit after His forty days' experience in the wilderness when He began His active service as "the Messenger of the Covenant," selecting His Bride, the Church.

When He finished His sacrifice at Calvary the man Jesus was dead, and the New Creature Jesus, spirit-begotten and quickened and developed, was three and a half years old. According to the Divine Program He slept in hades, the tomb, and on the third day was born from the dead, raised up by Divine power as a New Creature, being given a spirit body of divine nature—glory, honor, immortality: "Him hath God highly exalted" (Philippians ii. 9). He did not lose His personality. His identity, and could therefore properly say, "I am He that liveth and was dead" (Rev. i. 18).

"Now the Lord Is That Spirit." II Corinthians iii. 17.

Thus was our Lord "put to death in flesh and quickened in spirit"—made alive in spirit, a Spirit Being. True, He was also quickened by the Spirit. It was the Father's Spirit or Power which raised Him from the dead, as the Scriptures declare (Romans xii. 11). Indeed, as the Apostle reminds us, all the blessings of Divine providence are of the Father. From Him cometh every good and every perfect gift.

He who thus ascended up on high, the Prince of glory and partaker of the divine nature, is the same Who first descended to the earthly nature, yea, Who was humbled even unto death, even the death of the Cross, and went to the tomb as the sinner's substitute or ransom-price. The forty days which intervened between the Redeemer's resurrection and His ascension taught two great lessons:

(1) That the crucified One was no longer held in the bonds of death, no longer a prisoner in the grave.

(2) It also taught that the Risen One was different in many respects from what He was before He died. No longer was He a man. No longer was He flesh. The body of flesh prepared for Him for the suffering of death had served its purpose. He needed it no longer. The Father had raised Him up to the plane of glory again. As a quickening spirit He was with the disciples during the forty days, instructing them during the few moments of each of His seven or eight appearances. But He was teaching them equally when invisible to them. He noted their perplexities. His several appearances were in different forms—as a gardener, as a traveller, as a purchaser of fish on the shore of Lake Tiberias, calling out, "Have you any fish?" and then, "Drop the net on the other side."

He "revealed" Himself to the disciples in various ways in connection with those materializations and then straightway He "vanished" out of their sight, to be present with them, unseen, for days. For identification He appeared on two occasions in body bearing the marks of His crucifixion. During those forty days the faithful Teacher established the faith of His followers in Himself as the glorified Messiah, their Heavenly Bridegroom. Who would later come again and receive them unto Himself and at that time give to them also a similar resurrection "change," that they should be like Him, "see Him as He is" and not as He was, and share His glory—because "flesh and blood cannot inherit the Kingdom of God" (1 Corinthians xv. 50).

Above the Brightness of the Sun.

St. Paul, the last of the twelve Apostles to be called to take the place of Judas, needed, as well as the others, to be able to witness to the resurrection of Jesus. Of this He tells us, saying, "He was seen of Cephas, then of the twelve; after that He was seen of above five hundred brethren at once; after that He was seen of James; then of all the Apostles; and last of all. He was seen of me also, as of one prematurely born" (1 Corinthians xv. 58).

In the ordinary course of events St. Paul would not have seen the Lord until His resurrection, when he himself would come forth as a member of "the Church of the First-born." He therefore describes his view of Jesus on his way to Damascos as being like that of one born before the time. In other words, St. Paul saw the Lord as He is and not as He was. He saw the Lord of glory, and not the man Jesus. The appearance was glorious indeed. In various parts of the Bible angels in their normal condition are pictured as bright shining ones. Thus one of the Prophets fell as dead before an angel of the Lord, whose face shone as the sun. Thus John the Revelator, granted a glimpse of the glorified Christ, fell as dead before Him. The effect of this great light above the brightness of the sun upon the eyes of Saul of Tarsus was destructive and a miracle was necessary for their restoration.

Thus the Lord identified Himself in glory with His former self, the man Jesus. These lessons of the Lord should not have gone unheeded. We should not have thought of the glorified Messiah as a man. The effect of the wrong thought has not only clouded our appreciation of the Savior in glory, but has also confused many respecting His Second Advent. It is safe to say that even yet the majority of those who are expecting the Second Coming of the Son of God and His establishment of His Messianic Throne are looking for Him as glorified man, forgetting that He sacrificed Himself as a man, and that He took not back that sacrifice, but received exaltation to the more excellent glory than that which He had left to become our Redeemer.

These wrong expectations respecting Messiah's Kingdom have turned the hearts of many in a contrary direction. They have reasoned correctly—that the establishment of an earthly Kingdom, with Christ the King in the flesh and His saints joint-heirs with Him in His Throne, also in the flesh, and with an earthly court—would be a condition of things inferior to the present one and apparently very inadequate for the accomplishment of the great things which the Bible promises Messiah's Kingdom will secure.

The proper thought respecting the resurrection of our Lord and His present glory shows us clearly that His Kingdom, when it shall be established, will, indeed, be a heavenly Kingdom, a spiritual one. From this stand-point only can we see the force of the Apostle's contrast, when he pictures to us how Satan, ambitious and scheming to be the Emperor of the world, took the path of disobedience. He indeed gained his desire and is the "Prince of this world"—over a sorry Empire, in which sin and death reign. On the other hand, the Apostle points us to the fact that our Redeemer, loyal to the Heavenly Father to the core, humbled Himself to take the human nature, to be crucified; and that therefore God has exalted Him and will give to Him the Kingdom now usurped by Satan, the Prince of this world.

Satan will be bound for the thousand years of Messiah's reign. The spiritual Prince of darkness will be deposed and the spiritual Prince of Light and Truth, as the Father's honored Agent, will be inaugurated as King of kings and Lord of lords. And "He must reign until He shall have put all enemies under His feet"—the last enemy being death. Adamic death, the death introduced through the deceptive lie of "Satan, who was a murderer from the beginning and abode not in the Truth" (John viii. 44).

St. Paul, according to the Greek text, institutes a comparison between Satan's course and that of the Logos (Philippians ii. 6). He there implies that Satan was ambitious and sought to grasp Divine prerogatives, but that the Logos "did not mediate a usurpation to be equal with God," but, on the contrary, humbled Himself and made Himself of no reputation. Nevertheless, eventually, in the outworking of the Creator's great Program, the One who humbled Himself will be the Exalted One, and the one who exalted Himself will be abased. The Apostle urges the Church to follow the example of Jesus—"Humble yourselves, therefore, under the mighty hand of God, that He may exalt you in due time" (1 Peter v. 6).

Church of the First-born.

As the Only-Begotten of the Father was begotten of the Holy Spirit at the time of His consecration, as an embryo New Creature, and as He was born of the Spirit or perfected as a New Creature in His resurrection, so also the Scriptures indicate must be the course along which the Church is to follow Him. None can be born of the Spirit unless first he has been begotten of the Spirit and quickened of the Spirit. It is through this spirit-begetting, quickening and birth that the "elect of God," called during this Age to a change of nature, are made New Creatures—"members of the Anointed One," the Christ, the Messiah, the Mediator between God and the world, under-kings, under-priests, under-judges, in association with their Lord, the Chief-Priest and Bridegroom.

In the present life the new nature is merely begun, and, as the Apostle declares, we have it as a treasure in earthly vessels—in earthly bodies. He became like others of the race, except that "He was holy, harmless, separate from sinners," while all others are sinners, imperfect. Like other men, the man Jesus was not a dual being—a spirit being living in a human frame. He was merely human.

But the Redeemer became a dual being when He received the begetting of the Holy Spirit at the time of His baptism. Thenceforth, for three and a half years, until His crucifixion, He was dual. The flesh was the same; but the spirit-begetting received from the Father constituted Him a new Logos, a new person. He not only thereafter had new hopes, based upon Divine promises, but He had a new mind or new will specially illuminated, quickened, enlightened by the Holy Spirit. From the time of His baptism, His flesh fell that belonged to His human nature was given up to die in the carrying out of the Heavenly Father's purposes. Thenceforth the Spirit begotten One waited merely for the accomplishment of His sacrifice according to the Father's will, and for a new body, a glorious spirit body, in the resurrection—His completing or perfecting as a New Creature.

AMUSEMENTS

DAMON AND PYTHIAS' TONIGHT AT THE THEATRE

Damon and Pythias, which is to be presented at the Auditorium Monday evening, is one of the most popular dramas which has been presented upon this stage this season. One who witnessed the closing rehearsal of the play in costume made the remark: "It was as cleverly done as it is by professionals." And, indeed, so masterfully and pains have been taken in the preparation and rehearsals that those who were not acquainted with the faces of the Newark men and women in the characters, they might be led to believe they were performing a performance by the famous Robert Donning and his company.

SECONDLY, THE DRAMATIZATION BY GEO. D. BAKER HAS TAKEN THE THEATRE BY STORM AND HAS PROVEN THE ROMANTIC DRAMA OF YEARS SINCE THE "PRISONER OF ZEEBRA" WAS WITHDRAWN FROM THE BOARDS NEARLY TEN YEARS AGO.

GEORGE D. BAKER HAS TAKEN THE THEATRE BY STORM AND HAS PROVEN THE ROMANTIC DRAMA OF YEARS SINCE THE "PRISONER OF ZEEBRA" WAS WITHDRAWN FROM THE BOARDS NEARLY TEN YEARS AGO.

GEORGE D. BAKER HAS TAKEN THE THEATRE BY STORM AND HAS PROVEN THE ROMANTIC DRAMA OF YEARS SINCE THE "PRISONER OF ZEEBRA" WAS WITHDRAWN FROM THE BOARDS NEARLY TEN YEARS AGO.

GEORGE D. BAKER HAS TAKEN THE THEATRE BY STORM AND HAS PROVEN THE ROMANTIC DRAMA OF YEARS SINCE THE "PRISONER OF ZEEBRA" WAS WITHDRAWN FROM THE BOARDS NEARLY TEN YEARS AGO.

GEORGE D. BAKER HAS TAKEN THE THEATRE BY STORM AND HAS PROVEN THE ROMANTIC DRAMA OF YEARS SINCE THE "PRISONER OF ZEEBRA" WAS WITHDRAWN FROM THE BOARDS NEARLY TEN YEARS AGO.

GEORGE D. BAKER HAS TAKEN THE THEATRE BY STORM AND HAS PROVEN THE ROMANTIC DRAMA OF YEARS SINCE THE "PRISONER OF ZEEBRA" WAS WITHDRAWN FROM THE BOARDS NEARLY TEN YEARS AGO.

GEORGE D. BAKER HAS TAKEN THE THEATRE BY STORM AND HAS PROVEN THE ROMANTIC DRAMA OF YEARS SINCE THE "PRISONER OF ZEEBRA" WAS WITHDRAWN FROM THE BOARDS NEARLY TEN YEARS AGO.

GEORGE D. BAKER HAS TAKEN THE THEATRE BY STORM AND HAS PROVEN THE ROMANTIC DRAMA OF YEARS SINCE THE "PRISONER OF ZEEBRA" WAS WITHDRAWN FROM THE BOARDS NEARLY TEN YEARS AGO.

GEORGE D. BAKER HAS TAKEN THE THEATRE BY STORM AND HAS PROVEN THE ROMANTIC DRAMA OF YEARS SINCE THE "PRISONER OF ZEEBRA" WAS WITHDRAWN FROM THE BOARDS NEARLY TEN YEARS AGO.

GEORGE D. BAKER HAS TAKEN THE THEATRE BY STORM AND HAS PROVEN THE ROMANTIC DRAMA OF YEARS SINCE THE "PRISONER OF ZEEBRA" WAS WITHDRAWN FROM THE BOARDS NEARLY TEN YEARS AGO.

GEORGE D. BAKER HAS TAKEN THE THEATRE BY STORM AND HAS PROVEN THE ROMANTIC DRAMA OF YEARS SINCE THE "PRISONER OF ZEEBRA" WAS WITHDRAWN FROM THE BOARDS NEARLY TEN YEARS AGO.

GEORGE D. BAKER HAS TAKEN THE THEATRE BY STORM AND HAS PROVEN THE ROMANTIC DRAMA OF YEARS SINCE THE "PRISONER OF ZEEBRA" WAS WITHDRAWN FROM THE BOARDS NEARLY TEN YEARS AGO.

GEORGE D. BAKER HAS TAKEN THE THEATRE BY STORM AND HAS PROVEN THE ROMANTIC DRAMA OF YEARS SINCE THE "PRISONER OF ZEEBRA" WAS WITHDRAWN FROM THE BOARDS NEARLY TEN YEARS AGO.

GEORGE D. BAKER HAS TAKEN THE THEATRE BY STORM AND HAS PROVEN THE ROMANTIC DRAMA OF YEARS SINCE THE "PRISONER OF ZEEBRA" WAS WITHDRAWN FROM THE BOARDS NEARLY TEN YEARS AGO.

GEORGE D. BAKER HAS TAKEN THE THEATRE BY STORM AND HAS PROVEN THE ROMANTIC DRAMA OF YEARS SINCE THE "PRISONER OF ZEEBRA" WAS WITHDRAWN FROM THE BOARDS NEARLY TEN YEARS AGO.

GEORGE D. BAKER HAS TAKEN THE THEATRE BY STORM AND HAS PROVEN THE ROMANTIC DRAMA OF YEARS SINCE THE "PRISONER OF ZEEBRA" WAS WITHDRAWN FROM THE BOARDS NEARLY TEN YEARS AGO.

GEORGE D. BAKER HAS TAKEN THE THEATRE BY STORM AND HAS PROVEN THE ROMANTIC DRAMA OF YEARS SINCE THE "PRISONER OF ZEEBRA" WAS WITHDRAWN FROM THE BOARDS NEARLY TEN YEARS AGO.

GEORGE D. BAKER HAS TAKEN THE THEATRE BY STORM AND HAS PROVEN THE ROMANTIC DRAMA OF YEARS SINCE THE "PRISONER OF ZEEBRA" WAS WITHDRAWN FROM THE BOARDS NEARLY TEN YEARS AGO.

GEORGE D. BAKER HAS TAKEN THE THEATRE BY STORM AND HAS PROVEN THE ROMANTIC DRAMA OF YEARS SINCE THE "PRISONER OF ZEEBRA" WAS WITHDRAWN FROM THE BOARDS NEARLY TEN YEARS AGO.

GEORGE D. BAKER HAS TAKEN THE THEATRE BY STORM AND HAS PROVEN THE ROMANTIC DRAMA OF YEARS SINCE THE "PRISONER OF ZEEBRA" WAS WITHDRAWN FROM THE BOARDS NEARLY TEN YEARS AGO.

GEORGE D. BAKER HAS TAKEN THE THEATRE BY STORM AND HAS PROVEN THE ROMANTIC DRAMA OF YEARS SINCE THE "PRISONER OF ZEEBRA" WAS WITHDRAWN FROM THE BOARDS NEARLY TEN YEARS AGO.

GEORGE D. BAKER HAS TAKEN THE THEATRE BY STORM AND HAS PROVEN THE ROMANTIC DRAMA OF YEARS SINCE THE "PRISONER OF ZEEBRA" WAS WITHDRAWN FROM THE BOARDS NEARLY TEN YEARS AGO.

GEORGE D. BAKER HAS TAKEN THE THEATRE BY STORM AND HAS PROVEN THE ROMANTIC DRAMA OF YEARS SINCE THE "PRISONER OF ZEEBRA" WAS WITHDRAWN FROM THE BOARDS NEARLY TEN YEARS AGO.

GEORGE D. BAKER HAS TAKEN THE THEATRE BY STORM AND HAS PROVEN THE ROMANTIC DRAMA OF YEARS SINCE THE "PRISONER OF ZEEBRA" WAS WITHDRAWN FROM THE BOARDS NEARLY TEN YEARS AGO.

GEORGE D. BAKER HAS TAKEN THE THEATRE BY STORM AND HAS PROVEN THE ROMANTIC DRAMA OF YEARS SINCE THE "PRISONER OF ZEEBRA" WAS WITHDRAWN FROM THE BOARDS NEARLY TEN YEARS AGO.

GEORGE D. BAKER HAS TAKEN THE THEATRE BY STORM AND HAS PROVEN THE ROMANTIC DRAMA OF YEARS SINCE THE "PRISONER OF ZEEBRA" WAS WITHDRAWN FROM THE BOARDS NEARLY TEN YEARS AGO.

GEORGE D. BAKER HAS TAKEN THE THEATRE BY STORM AND HAS PROVEN THE ROMANTIC DRAMA OF YEARS SINCE THE "PRISONER OF ZEEBRA" WAS WITHDRAWN FROM THE BOARDS NEARLY TEN YEARS AGO.

GEORGE D. BAKER HAS TAKEN THE THEATRE BY STORM AND HAS PROVEN THE ROMANTIC DRAMA OF YEARS SINCE THE "PRISONER OF ZEEBRA" WAS WITHDRAWN FROM THE BOARDS NEARLY TEN YEARS AGO.

GEORGE D. BAKER HAS TAKEN THE THEATRE BY STORM AND HAS PROVEN THE ROM